Trading Picks Up in Last Hour and Advance Is Stimulated by the Hasty
Retreat of the Bears.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The commodity markets lent a hand to the stock market today and share prices, aided by wheat and corn, rose swiftly in the last hour of trading.

Activity remained highly professional, however, and net advances of 3 to 6 points in several leading issues reflected primarily an extremely thin market. Until the last hour, trading held around the lowest levels in the past four years, but a flurry of short covering in the final hour carried total sales up close to 1,200,000 shares. It was the smallest full day of the year, however, save for last Friday, when only 1,090,210 shares were traded.

Member loans to New York Stock Exchange members declined $11,228,792 last month, totaling $3,683,452,297 on July 31. On the same date a year ago these loans aggregated $7,473,794,294.

Retreat of the Bears. The market was stimulated by the hasty retreat of the bears, who appeared to be under the psychological influence of the advances of about 3 to 4 cents in wheat and corn prices. The news from the farm states, reporting crop damage, however, was not interpreted altogether bullishly for stocks, for it was pointed out in banking quarters that grain prices must rise substantially to compensate for reduced crop yields, unless farm purchasing power is to undergo further decline. News of a small wheat crop in France, however, was regarded as fundamentally bullish.

The market sold off for a time in the morning, as bears renewed pressure against the utilities, but the recent bull leaders took hold of Radio and a few other favorites, and bid for them briskly. The market soon regained its loss, but the advance did not gain much headway until late in the day. Such favorable developments, known at the start, as a slight increase in steel mill activity in the Youngstown area, and resumption of operations at several automotive centers, failed to inspire much enthusiasm.

Public Participation Small. Public participation in the market remained negligible, however, and few market leaders in the advisory services felt justified advocating much but袖珍的 policy. Moody's pointed out that there is as yet no means of gauging the extent of the expected seasonal recovery in business, and Standard Statistics found the economic background "distinctly unfavorable to large scale bullish operations." The Harvard Economic Society continued optimistic over the prospects for business recovery.

The bank holiday at London and Liverpool acted as a damper on speculative activity here. Credit was a little firmer, reflecting the influence of the return of Aug. 1 payment checks for clearing. There was some calling of loans, and call money was firm at 2 per cent. Foreign exchanges moved uncertainly, but further gold exports were widely anticipated. Sterling cables are now close to $4.87 1/2, and while the outgoing gold point has been calculated heretofore at about 44 5/8, at least one international banker is planning a shipment as soon as the rate reaches $4.87 1/2.

Telephone Issues Advance. Eadio was an active feature, rising 2 points, but American Telephone became the market's buoyant feature, closing up 6 points. Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, Consolidated Gas, Johns-Manville, Worthington Pump, Alton Chemical, Safeway Stores, New York Central, Coca-Cola, and Westinghouse Electric gained 3 to 5 points.

Band Concert Tonight. South Saint Louis Square, 8 to 10. Momeno's Band.

MRS. MOONEY IN COURT GLAD AS ON DAY OF BOMBING

Photograph Taken Then, a Month From Scene of Tragedy, Shows Her With Husband.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Thomas J. Mooney, whose husband is serving a life sentence for the San Francisco Preparedness day parade bombing in 1916, appeared today at the Supreme Court hearing on the application for a pardon for Warren K. Billings, convicted with Mooney.

Mrs. Mooney was dressed in the same black tailored suit she wore July 22, 1916 the day of the bombing. It was the same dress in which a photographer snapped her among a group on the roof of the Elelers Building more than a mile away from the scene of the bombing a few minutes before the blast occurred. The photograph showed Mooney standing beside her. Mooney's contention is that the photograph is proof of the fact he could not have placed the bomb and reached the Elelers Building in time to have appeared in the photograph.

Garage Owner, Who Is Special Officer, Drives Injured Man to His Old Address.

Charles Pillow, 26 years old, got away from St. Clair County authorities for the second time in a year yesterday when a special Deputy Sheriff unwittingly aided him to escape from St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Belleville.

Pillow slashed his abdomen with a razor blade at East St. Louis Police Headquarters a week ago when arrested in connection with the $40 holdup of a truck driver, July 19, at Brooklyn. At 2 a. m. yesterday he walked out of the hospital. He went to a garage and told the proprietor, Martin Busekrus, a special Deputy because of frequent calls to automobile accidents, that he wanted a wrecked automobile towed in.

He accompanied Busekrus to Third and Exchange streets, East St. Louis, where Sheriff Ahrens said he knew his address. No wreck was in sight. Pillow said he would find out what had happened to it and entered a house. When he failed to return, Busekrus drove back to Belleville and told Sheriff Ahrens, who already was searching for Pillow.

A year ago, shortly after Pillow had given testimony concerning remarks overheard in jail at Belleville which helped convict three men of murdering Justice Neumann, who lived alone near Massillon, he walked away from the jail where he was a trustee. He had served about half of a six-month term for petit larceny.

TWO MEN SLOW IN RAISING HANDS, SHOT BY ROBBERS

Roy Cress and Herman Gray of Granite City Wounded at East St. Louis Dice Game.

BOTH INJURED ONLY SLIGHTLY

Intruders Take $50 in Bets Lying on Table and $31 From Pockets of Proprietor of Place.

Two men standing at a dice table in a restaurant in "The Valley" East St. Louis organized vice district were shot and slightly wounded last night when they failed to respond quickly enough to a holdup man's order: "Everybody put up your hands."

The wounded men are Roy Cress, 21 years old, a rolling mill worker, 2113 Cleveland avenue, and Herman Gray, 1929 Cleveland avenue, Granite City.

No report of the shooting was made to East St. Louis police until the wounded men reached St. Mary's Hospital. Cress, who was shot through the right forearm, walked to the hospital seven blocks away. Gray, who was wounded in the left hip, was carried to the hospital in an automobile.

About 29 men, half of them Negroes, were standing around the dice table when the robbers entered. North Pappas, proprietor of the game, told police. A short, dark man carrying a shotgun stepped in the side door to the place, "yelling: 'Everybody put up your hands!'" Two other men, one short and dark, the other tall, entered the front door. The two robbers then pointed with pistols.

A tall Negro who was shaking the dice cup above his head, stopped as if he had been paralysed and some of the other players started to raise their hands. Pappas said. Cress and Gray, standing at the end of the table near the two robbers with pistols, were slow in raising their hands, and one of the robbers fired twice, both shots taking effect.

The robbers then took about $50 which had been left on the outcome of the Negro's throw, and left the table, and searched Pappas, robbing him of $1. They then left without troubling the other men in the room. Pappas said.

Theodore Doras is proprietor of the restaurant, which is at 228 North Third street. He was reluctant to discuss the robbery and shooting, police reported. The vice district, which is run without interference from the authorities, is a block from the East St. Louis City Hall.

TWO MEN DROWN IN OKAW AND BOY IN THE MISSISSIPPI

E. St. Louis Mail Carrier Starts to Take First Dip in 25 Years at Park Near Red Bud.

Two men were drowned in the Okaw River in Illinois, yesterday and a boy in the Mississippi River opposite downtown St. Louis. The dead:

William J. McNulty, 43 years old, a mail carrier, 410 North Thirteenth street, East St. Louis.

Adolph Nehring, 21, a farmer living near Freeburg, Ill.

John C. Maxey Jr., 19, 741 North First street, East St. Louis.

McNulty, on a picnic with his wife and 12-year-old daughter at Hoffmann's Park, about six miles east of Red Bud, Ill., decided to cool off in the Okaw with his first swim in 25 years. He waded into the stream. As his wife, from the top of a 70-foot bluff, shouted a warning not to proceed farther, McNulty disappeared, evidently having succumbed to a stopoff.

Screeams of the wife and daughter brought two men in a rowboat who found the body in a sunken tree in about six feet of water 15 minutes later. A. E. Kruse, 4622 Rose Avenue, St. Louis, applied artificial respiration without avail.

Nehring, unable to swim, was drowned when he stepped into deep water while wading near a sandbar in the Okaw River, known also as Kaskaskia River, about four miles east of Heckler, Ill., where St. Clair County joins Monroe County. Several companions, noticing he had left the sandbar, hurried toward him, reaching him just as he sank. The body has not been recovered. Nehring lived with his mother, Mrs. Catherine Nehring, on a farm about half a mile west of Freeburg.

Maxey, just learning how to swim, was drowned near the Illinois shore of the Mississippi River about half a mile south of Ends Bridge when he fell from a homemade raft which was swaying about in the current. He struggled for several minutes but was unable to grasp the raft or to reach shallow water. Three East St. Louis youths who were with him on the raft reported the drowning. Maxey was employed by his father, an East St. Louis livestock dealer. His body has not been recovered.

NON-UNION MEN REPLACE PLUMBERS WHO STRUCK

No Attempt Made to Arbitrate Dispute Over Cutting and Threatening of Pipe.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The practice among certain newspapers of printing publicity material of firms which use their columns for advertising will be investigated by the Postoffice Department.

The postal laws require that publicity matter published as editorial or reading matter be plainly marked "advertisement." Failure to comply with this provision subjects the publisher to a fine of $50 to $500.

Newspaper publishers have complained that advertisers threaten to withhold advertising unless their publication is printed.

SCORFINA KIDNAPING SUSPECTS FAIL TO APPEAR IN COURT

$50,000 Bonds of Each Continued Thursday at Attorney's Request.

Bonds of $50,000 for each of three men charged with robbing and kidnaping Sam Scorina, Carlstadt grocer, on July 15, and holding him for ransom, were continued until Thursday when they failed to appear today before Judge Weinbrener in Court of Criminal Correction.

Former Circuit Attorney Siderer is attorney for the defendants. Baptista Bonmarita, Sam Lombardo and Sora Mantia. In a plea today against forfeiture of the bonds he told the court he had advised his clients to stay away, thinking they might be lured into the lobby of La Salle Hotel where three gunmen shot him.

An order by Circuit Judge Lashly authorizing Mrs. Mary Wunsch, 2104A South Eleventh street, to take depositions for her proposed suit to obtain title to 2000 acres in northern St. Louis County, was quashed today by Circuit Judge Mulley at Clayton. Lashly is on his vacation.

With Carl Florio, Cuckoo gangster who is still at large, the men are under indictment at Belleville on charges of armed robbery and kidnaping for ransom, the latter a capital offense. They have given two bonds each of $25,000 in St. Louis, the first as fugitives from justice and the second on a Missouri warrant charging kidnaping for ransom which was issued in connection with the holdup.

The dispute arose over a demand by the union that all pipe be cut and threaded by union men on the job instead of at the supply houses. Under the previous arrangement union men cut small pipe on the job, and large pipe was cut by machine before delivery on the job. The 350 employees members of the union quit work last Friday when the demand was rejected.

EIGHT ARRESTS IN BEER AND LIQUOR RAIDS BY POLICE

Eight persons were arrested in eight beer and liquor raids yesterday by police.

They were Mrs. Emily Dausch, 222 East Kraus street, 50 quarts of beer, a pint of alleged whisky and a quantity of mash; John Souzan, 1212 Gratiot street, 89 bottles of beer; George Sand, 2902 Miami street, 128 pints of beer; William Bruegeman, 2712 South Broadway, 43 pints of beer, small quantities of alleged whisky; Willie Hollins, Negro, 2210 Morgan street, nine half pints of alleged whisky; Frank Schmidt, 4244 Meramec street, 34 bottles of beer; Mrs. Alice Naughton, 412 Schiller place, 42 bottles of beer, and Harold Repp, 4209A North Grand boulevard, 198 bottles of beer.

FLOWERS WILT, BEES SUFFER

Insects Fly So Far for Honey They Can't Return.

Noting the unusual number of bees about the flowers in Shaw's Garden yesterday, Martin Winter, a beekeeper of Maxville, Mo., remarked that not only were his bees consuming their spring honey deposits, but that many were disappearing. He thinks they had to go so far to find flowers that they failed to return. Excessive heat and lack of rain have withered all flowers, except those watered regularly. The College of Agriculture at the University of Missouri has advised beekeepers to place sugar water near the hives.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE WITH GAS

Mrs. Pauline Brown, 41 years old, was found dead in the kitchen of her home, 6234 Waldemar avenue, shortly before noon today.

Burners on the gas stove were turned on but not lighted and an unsigned note nearby read: "Don't blame anybody for this." Mrs. Brown's husband, George, a carpenter, was not at home.

SELF-APPOINTED POLICEMAN BAWS OUT TRAFFIC OFFICER

Clayton Man Crowds Auto to Curb, Finds It Contains a Cop.

A man who said he was Harry Langenohl, 40 years old, 12 South Meramec avenue, Clayton, forced a motorist to the curb at Clayton road and Yale avenue, St. Louis County, early yesterday and reprimanded him for speeding.

The motorist happened to be Traffic Officer William Skillman, of Richmond Heights. He put Langenohl under arrest charged with impersonating an officer. Langenohl, according to Skillman, admitted he had no authority, but expected to be appointed a Deputy Constable after the election. He is held under $1,000 bond and will answer on the charge of Richmond Heights.

The machine belonged to Walter Brand, a clerk, of 4107 Russell boulevard, who said he had parked it at Forest avenue and set the brake.

CITY EMPLOYEE KILLED BY DRIVERLESS AUTO

Car Parked on Street Backs Up Over Man Emerging From Manhole.

A driverless automobile, coasting, struck and fatally injured John O'Fallon, 56, of 2440 North Garrison avenue, a Street Department laborer, as he emerged from a manhole at Forest and Wise avenues at 9 o'clock this morning. He suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries and died at city hospital an hour and a half later.

The machine belonged to Walter Brand, a clerk, of 4107 Rus-sell boulevard, who said he had parked it at Forest avenue and set the brake.

Analysis of the Proposed Plan For City-County Consolidation

Chairman of Citizen's Committee Discusses Tax and Debt Limitations of Metropolitan Government.

Voters of Missouri, at the November election, will pass on the proposed amendment to the State Constitution to enable the merger of city and county in accordance with the plan proposed by the City and County Metropolitan Development Committee.

For the information of voters, Robert A. Roessel of Webster Groves, chairman of the committee which is sponsoring the plan, has prepared a series of articles explaining it. The sixth and last of this series follows:

By ROBERT A. ROESSEL,

Chairman City and County Metropolitan Development Committee. HIS final article has to do with the tax and debt limitations of the metropolitan government and of the City of St. Louis under the proposed metropolitan plan. It provides that the metropolitan government may levy and collect a tax not to exceed 60 cents. The tax rate could be increased to an amount not to exceed $1.00 by vote of the people.

The metropolitan Government imposes additional duties upon any of the municipal districts can come effective unless it is approved by a majority of those voting in a majority of all the municipal districts or county districts affected.

By reason of the fact that functions will be transferred to the metropolitan Government from the city of St. Louis and the cities and towns of St. Louis County, the tax expense of the city of St. Louis and these other cities and towns will be decreased. Therefore, it is provided that the tax rate of the city of St. Louis shall at no time exceed $1.35 on the $100 valuation of its taxable property, but only by a two-thirds majority vote of the people.

A man who said he was Orville Allen Simmons and Mrs. Arthur Stone and her 6-year-old daughter were taken to Police Headquarters last night at the request of a man who said he was the woman's husband.

Stone told police that Simmons and his 25-year-old wife left their home at Bushong, Kan., July 11, taking his daughter. He traced them to St. Louis.

Non-Union Ice Men Beaten. James F. McCalister, an ice wagon driver, 5228 Magnolia avenue, was attacked and beaten by two men as he was delivering ice in the 4100 block of Lafayette avenue yesterday. He was treated at City Hospital for bruises. McCalister told police one of his assailants was a member of an ice wagon drivers' union in which he had given up membership several months ago to obtain employment as a non-union driver.

The amendment further has to do with the method and procedure for the amendment of the charter after its adoption. Proposals to amend the charter may be submitted at either a general or special election, and may be submitted by either the governing body of the metropolitan government or by petition.

No amendment which alters the boundaries, reduces the powers or

LAST DAY AT CAMP FOR CITIZEN SOLDIERS

Tomorrow They Will Be Mustered Out at Barracks and Go Home.

Youths of the Citizen's Military Training Camp at Jefferson Barracks spent their last day at Camp Britton today, preparing to leave for their home in St. Louis. All military equipment was inspected and turned in. Uniforms were exchanged for civilian clothes, which the summer soldiers have not worn since the opening of camp on July 7, and the regimental colors were returned to the Sixth Infantry.

All articles used by the 1700 student soldiers are subject to a triple check. Counting is facilitated by arranging mattresses, pillows and coats in stacks of 20. Hats are piled in stacks of 10. Some of the uniforms, all of which were part of the surplus supply during the war, will be destroyed, while others will be cleaned and put in good order for the next camp.

Rifles will strike the tents and place the pins in grain sacks, according to regulations, which prescribe 100 large pins or 150 small ones to the sack.

Rifles and pistols were cleaned for three successive days before being turned in.

The youths will be mustered out after breakfast tomorrow and given transportation, at the rate of 5 cents a mile, to their home in Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois.

CASUALTIES IN ILLINOIS MINE CLASHES ESTIMATED AT 100

One Man Fatally Hurt at Royalton; Lewis-Flawick Feud Causes Disturbances.

By the Associated Press.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 4.—Although exact figures are not available on the number of injured in numerous clashes and riots between opposing factions of the miners' union in this section during the last few months, newspaper men have estimated the number at more than 100.

One man died from injuries suffered in the riot at Royalton, and several others were injured. At Harrisburg recently many were roughly handled; at least 20 were beaten at Zeigler and other points, and many others have been injured in disturbances in other parts of Southern Illinois.

All the clashes were due to the controversy between the John L. Lewis and the Howat-Flawick factions. Several mines are tied up because the two factions cannot agree on terms under which the colliery may be operated. During the long row between the two factions, communist organizers have been active.

WIDOW WITH 4 CHILDREN GETS SECOND PAROLE ON DRY CHARGE

Mrs. Anna Smith Pleads Guilty, Appearing Voluntarily in Belleville Court.

Mrs. Anna Smith, widowed mother of four small children, was paroled for the second time today when she pleaded guilty before County Judge Weber at Belleville of possession of liquor.

Deputy Sheriffs, shortly after she had been paroled last February, visited her home and again found liquor there. Mrs. Smith was not found. She had left her children with a sister in Belleville and gone to Detroit, Mich. She returned recently and today appeared voluntarily in court, repeating her assertion she was forced to sell liquor to support her children.

Judge Weber learned the oldest child, a girl 16, had obtained employment, and arranged to get a widow's pension of $11 a month for Mrs. Smith. She promised to support her family, from now on without violating the prohibition laws.

WOMAN IS KILLED IN AUTO WRECK, COMPANIONS SOUGHT

Mangled Body of Mrs. Minnie Martin Found in Car Near York, S. C.

By the Associated Press.

YORK, S. C., Aug. 4.—The mangled body of Mrs. Minnie Martin, 45 years old, of Kings Mountain, N. C., was found in a wrecked automobile near here late yesterday. With the neck broken and several bruises on the head, the body lay on the running board, the head on the rear fender and the feet and knee inside the car.

No one else was found at the scene of the wreck, but a man's hat lay in the car, and a woman was said to have been seen leaving the spot. Officers making an investigation saw footprints apparently made by two men and a woman leaving the wrecked automobile.

Ownership of the car was traced to John D. McDaniel of Kings Mountain.

SHOOTS BURGLAR IN THE DARK

Chicagoan Fires Pistol From Bed Just to Please Wife.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Andrew Schlesinger sat up in the middle of the hot night and aroused her husband: "Burglar!" she whispered. "Burglar in the house, get up!" "It's the heat, my dear," he murmured, "and the humidity." "It's burglar, I tell you, get up!" she said.

Schlesinger, resignedly, agreed to take measures to frighten away any intruder. He reached through the darkness for a revolver in his bureau drawer, pointed it sharply at a corner of the bedroom and pulled the trigger. Schlesinger turned on the light and discovered he had shot George Samuels, Negro, a burglar.

By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 4.—Robert Bennett, 38 years old, yesterday shot and killed his estranged wife, Laura A. Bennett, 25, at his son, Ollie, 11, and then tried to kill himself. He is in jail here.

Bennett, a janitor at Central Junior High School, went to visit Mrs. Bennett at her hotel home in effort to effect a reconciliation.

As she turned to leave him, Bennett fired five shots into her back. His son, who was standing nearby, then was fired on as he ran into another room. The shot went wild. After the shooting Bennett walked to the intercity viaduct where he attempted suicide by shooting, but all his cartridges had been fired. He then beat himself on the head with his pistol.

21 American Nations Sponsor Project—Designs Due May 15.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A great crossroads of the air, marked by a gigantic beacon light, is to honor the spirit of Columbus at Santo Domingo, oldest of new world cities.

Designs for the land and water airport will be submitted to an international jury of architects next May 15. The project is sponsored by the 21 American nations.

The jury, Raymond Hood, representing North America; Horacio Acosta, Latin America, and Eelie Saarinen, Europe, will judge the models. Designs are to cover construction of the memorial lighthouse, a chapel and library, the necessary land and water approaches, and the airport at an estimated cost of $1,500,000.

The models were selected in a preliminary contest sponsored by the Pan-American Union, 450 artists from 46 countries submitting entries. The winner of the second competition will receive $10,000 and become architect of the memorial.

American architects who have submitted plans include Edgar Lynch, Chicago; Will Rice Amos, New York; Helme, Corbett & Harrison, New York, and Douglas D. Ellington.

SOLO FLIGHT NEXT WEEK
Erroll Boyd, Co-Pilot on U. S. Bermuda Round Trip, to Make Attempt.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Plans for a solo trans-Atlantic flight from New York to London, with the take-off set for next week or as soon as weather conditions are favorable, were announced yesterday by J. Erroll Boyd, co-pilot of the Bellanca monoplane Columbia on Round Q. Williams' recent round trip flight to Bermuda. Boyd expects to make the journey in 30 hours.

The purpose of the flight is to demonstrate the efficacy of a simplified system of aerial navigation developed by Boyd and Harry P. Connors, navigator on the Columbia's flight to Bermuda. Boyd will use a Bellanca cabin monoplane, similar to the Columbia, but of later design, which is to be equipped with earth inductor, magnetic and aperiodic compasses, a Sperry artificial horizon and other devices for "blind" flying.

Boyd began flying in 1914 with the British naval air service, reaching the rank of flight commander during the war. He was credited with sinking a German submarine off Ostend and was himself shot down near the Zeebrugge in October, 1915, escaping across the border and being interned by the Dutch.

He was paroled in 1916 and came to the United States, where he acted as test pilot for Curtiss and other manufacturers. He did pioneer commercial flying in Mexico.

EARTHQUAKE IN PORTUGAL
Inhabitants Flee Homes at Porto do Lima; Second Shock Reported.

By the Associated Press
PORTO DO LIMA, Portugal, Aug. 4.—A sharp earthquake tremor was felt here while forenoon. The frightened inhabitants fled from their homes into the fields. No damage to property or loss of life was reported.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Two earth shocks which were "fairly violent" were recorded today on the seismograph of Fordham University, the first at 12 minutes past 11 p. m., central standard time, and the second seven minutes later. The distance of the quakes was placed at 3000 miles from New York, probably in the region of Central America. Seismographs said the shocks were more sharply recorded than the recent Italian quakes.

An earthquake was recorded on the seismograph at St. Louis University today. The first phase came at 12:12 a. m. and the second at 12:19. It is estimated the disturbance was about 10 miles away. The direction could not be determined. A much fainter disturbance was recorded about 6:30 this morning.

HEYWOOD BROUN CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS AS SOCIALIST

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Socialist party announced yesterday that Heywood Broun would be a candidate for Congressman from the Seventeenth Manhattan District against Representative Ruth Pratt, Republican, and Magistrate Louis B. Brodsky, Democrat. The Seventeenth includes the residential areas east and west of Central Park and runs as far south as Fourteenth street.

"This is a silk stocking district, I am told, but there is plenty of rayon still in it," observed Broun in a statement.

The Socialist party declared it would make the "Broun contest one of the outstanding battles of the national congressional campaign." Unemployment is to be his "constant theme." He got interested in last spring, organized a "Give a job till June" movement, and joined the Socialist party. Before entering politics, Broun had followed his newspaper career by writing several books and making one brief appearance on the stage. He has been a reporter and a columnist for the Morning Telegraph, the Tribune and the World, and is now a columnist on the Telegram.

Belgian Invasion Anniversary.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 4.—Artillery salutes and ringing of church bells throughout the count at 9:30 a. m. today marked the sixteenth anniversary of invasion of Belgian territory by the German armies.

There was a nation-wide observance of one minute of silence, while many made pilgrimages to the unknown soldier's tomb.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 4.—Of a total of 183 candidates for the State Legislature from rural Missouri polled in a recent questionnaire survey by the Missouri Farmers' Association, largest farmers' organization in the State, 143 are in favor of an equalization program of Gov. Caulfield's State Survey Commission, 25 are undecided and none oppose it. William Hirth, president of the association, announced here tonight after a final checkup.

The questionnaires were mailed two weeks ago, and last Monday night the names of 122 candidates who declared their support of the survey program. All 21 of the additional replies received this week, all from candidates for the lower House, are in favor of the survey. The survey of candidates included all Missouri with the exception of St. Louis and Jackson County (Kansas City).

Additional to the list of candidates answering the questionnaire since last week, all favorable, are as follows: Clarence E. Morris, Democrat; Bates, County; Richard Retegh, Republican; Cooper; J. L. Minton, Democrat; McDonald; Fred Spearman, Republican; Miller; Ronald Campbell, Republican; Newton; W. M. Alexander, Democrat; Wayne, John T. Robinson, Democrat; Nick Gandy, Democrat; Lewis, Howard C. Smith, Republican; Cedar; John Kleba, Republican; Omage; E. C. Green, Democrat; Linn; E. W. Keithley, Democrat; Hall; F. H. Hopkins, Republican; Atchison; W. T. Sims, Republican; Stone; A. H. Baldwin, Democrat; Cass; J. Arthur Francis, Democrat; Iron; H. Barnes, Republican; Crawford; W. E. Morrison, Republican; Butler, and J. D. Rebe, Democrat; Clark.

Widening of Third street, with special taxation and increase-of property values, will be made necessary by the Eads Bridge highway way opening, the letter says.

The letter is signed by L. J. Conant, executive vice president of the City Improvement Association. John M. Robertson is president.

URGES EARLY REMOVAL OF EADS BRIDGE TOLLS

Improvement Association, However, Sees No Reason to Buy City's P. S. C. Stock.

The City Improvement Association, representing downtown property owners, has sent a communication to Mayor Miller, urging immediate action to open Eads Bridge upper deck as a toll-free public highway. "City officials could make no more popular move," the letter says.

The letter refers to Comptroller

Nolte's suggestion, in which the Mayor has concurred, that the city should sell its holdings of stock in the Public Service Co., and use the proceeds to pay Eads bridge highway rentals. The Mayor is asked whether this suggestion means that the downtown interests should themselves buy the Public Service stock. Such a suggestion, the letter declares, would be unfair, since the Eads Bridge highway opening would benefit the entire city, and the downtown interests are already bearing a large part of the entire city's tax burden. Municipal bridge tolls, after the new approaches are built, will be sufficient, the letter predicts, to pay arrears on the Eads Bridge rental, as well as to pay the current rental and the cost of the approaches.

Widening of Third street, with special taxation and increase-of property values, will be made necessary by the Eads Bridge highway way opening, the letter says.
The letter is signed by L. J. Conant, executive vice president of the City
Improvement Association. John M.
Robertson is president.

3 SHOT IN CHILDREN'S FIGHT

Chicago Brothers, Beaten With Pista, Returns With Rifle.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Three child bystanders were shot yesterday when a juvenile gang fight broke out on the West Side.

The story, as witnesses related
it to police, was that Louis Hoda, 11 years old, and Albert Blisch, 7, used their fists on the Obazza brothers—John and Teddy, 12 and 14—who finally took to flight.
Louis and Albert were gleaming for the benefit of Sam Sharisena, 6;

Billy Korkoras, 8, and Florence
Mollere, 15, when John, carrying a handful of bullets, and Teddy, bearing a rifle, approached. When the smoke had cleared, Sam was lying on the sidewalk with a bullet in the right thigh and Florence with a wound in the right foot. Albert and Louis were unscathed and the Obazzas had fled.

Raskob's Daughters in Crash.

CENTERVILLE, Md., Aug. 4.—
Miss Helena Raskob and her younger sister, Miss Mary Louise, daughters of John J. Raskob, chairman of the Denver, N. M.,
Automobile Club, were uninjured yesterday in a head-on collision of their automobile and one driven by Frank Patchett of Queenstown.
Patchett and his three children received minor bruises. The accident occurred on a dirt road near the entrance of Pioneer Point Farms, the Raskob summer home, was attributed to heavy dust.

LAZY-MINDED WIVES CRITICISED ON RADIO

Speaker at Community Forum
Says They Make No Contribution to Public.

The husband who really needs sympathy is the one whose "lazy-minded" wife has no interests outside the four walls of her home, Mrs. George Gellhorn, vice president of the Missouri League of Women Voters, declared in the weekly Community Forum broadcast yesterday by KMOX.

Such women, she said, failed either to make any contribution to the community or to live the rich life. Mrs. E. M. Grossman, attorney, remarked that they are limited to the "uneducated rich." He added that the former Kaiser's limitation of women to "cooking, children, church" had gone with him into oblivion.

"Among the educated," Grossman said, "the wife seeks intellectual activity and finds the home inadequate to fill her life. Among the poor, economic necessity drives the wife out into the commercial and industrial world. These two classes make up by far the largest part of our city population. It is an accomplished fact which we might as well realize."

Mrs. Gellhorn had described marriage as "an age-old career with modern improvements." Mrs. Gertrude Bradley, member of the city, State and national bar associations and legal adviser of the Provident Association, said that career challenged every resource of mind and personality, with high rewards and no lack of interest for the wife who "releases all her resources, talent and gifts."

Mrs. Bradley urged women to guide their families in the use of the resources "that the community has provided for their improvement, culture and enjoyment"—libraries, museums, operas, parks, gardens, lectures and concerts. She frowned on outside interests causing neglect of children, explaining that children still must get most of their education, both of mind and character, in the home.

Baby-mixing at hospitals is "rare as meteors," declared Robert W. Kelso, director of the Community Fund and Council, who described the methods used to prevent it, by duplicate sets of footprints for the mother and the hospital and two identification bracelets attached at birth, in St. Louis Maternity Hospital. He declared the census of St. Louis and St. Louis County emphasized the fact that "practically every institution we have for the sick, the dependent and the insane is crowded to capacity, with no present plant afoot for the enlargement of facilities."

PLANNING NON-STOP FLIGHT FROM MEXICO TO TOKIO

Los Angeles Aviator Proposes to Refuel Over Honolulu; to Make Attempt in September.

By the Associated Press.
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 4.—Plans for a nonstop Mexico to Tokio flight in September were announced here today by Albert Calendas, Los Angeles aviator. Vere Scheuneman of Oceanside, near here, will be co-pilot.

Arrangements are being made for refueling over Honolulu for the 3550-mile water stretch to Tokio.

With co-operation of Gov. Tapia of Baja, Cal., a thousand-foot runway for the take-off will be built between Ensenada and Tijuana, Calendas said.

The flight is backed by the Confederacion Nacional de Estudiantes, an organization of 25,000 Mexican college and university students, with headquarters in Mexico City. Calendas said funds are being raised by popular subscription among the students.

OFFICIALS PLEAD NOT GUILTY Oklahoma Sheriff and Prosecutor Accused of Liquor Plot.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Aug. 4.—Pleading not guilty to Federal liquor conspiracy charges, P. V. Ruch, Tillman County attorney and C. A. Wages, Sheriff, were freed on $2500 bond each at arraignment before United States Commissioner George J. Eacook yesterday. Ruch alleged he had been framed because of his activities against bootleggers. He said he would remain here for a conference with Roy St. Lewis, United States District Attorney who filed the charges; Gov. W. J. Wallows, and Attorney-General J. E. McLean. He will invite the calling of a grand jury, he said to investigate prohibition enforcement in the county.

In making public the charges against Ruch and Wages, the District Attorney said McLean was investigating complaints that the county officers had participated in an extensive liquor ring. The charges were filed against the two officers after Bud Walls and Robert Rodgers, Deputy Sheriffs, held in jail at Lawton, Ok., on similar charges, made statements.

Driver 28 Years Without License
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Arraigned before a Justice of the Peace after his automobile had crashed through an iron fence, Leonard Hadden of Pine Bush admitted that he had been driving an automobile 28 years without a license. Hadden explained that he did not read much and began to talk to him, and that he did not know he was required to have an operator's license. Because he was an experienced driver before he was required of operators, Judge Wiley fined him only $5 and released him.

CHICAGO 100 YEARS OLD

James Thompson's Village
Published Aug. 4, 1830.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Chicago,

marshland settlement known as Fort Dearborn became Chicago through the publication of James Thompson's village print. State street was the east boundary of the second largest city of the United States in 100 years old today. On Aug. 4, 1830, the river-mouth, Madison street marked the south edge. Desplaines the west and Kinzie the north.

Thompson went to Kankakee, Ill., in 1814. He was a school teacher, captain of militia, a surveyor and a judge. He was selected by the trustees of the Illinois and Michigan canal commission to lay out a canal and pilot a city at either end. Ottawa, Ill., was at one end of the canal. Chicago at the other.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS' HOME HELD UP BY THREE YOUTHS
Robbers Get Between $20 and $30 From Actor; Overlook Mary Pickford's Jewelry.

By the Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 4.—Douglas Fairbanks' home was invaded by three robbers yesterday, but they overlooked jewelry valued at $100,000 belonging to Mary Pickford and her wife, he told reporters. Fairbanks did not report the robbery to police.

The robbers thrust a pistol in his side, the actor said, when he started to the door which he had forgotten to lock. Fairbanks said he turned on the light, was immediately recognized by the three young robbers, who became embarrassed. The robbers said they were sorry. Fairbanks told reporters, but said they had to have money. "I gave them $20 or $30 and they left hurriedly," Fairbanks said.

NEW SUIT THREATENED IN MINE UNION FIGHT

Nesbit Warns Local Officers Dues Must Be Paid Up by Aug. 25.

Special to the Post-Dispatch
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 4.—A new contempt suit, charging withholding of dues by local union officers throughout the State, will be filed in Circuit Court here Sept. 2 by attorneys for District 12 of the United Mine Workers, who was indicated Saturday.

Officers of two local unions of this city, as well as several at Danville, Peoria and Franklin County, will be named in the suit, unless dues are paid to Walter Nesbit, secretary of the district, by Aug. 25. Letters have been mailed to offending officers warning them that the suit will be filed unless the dues are forthcoming.

The president, recording secretary, financial secretary and treasurer of each offending district will be made defendants in the case.

Each voucher turning dues in to headquarters must contain the signature of each of the four officers, and it is believed that in many cases at least three of the officers have been willing to present dues to the office, but that one man has refused to sign.

DEMAND WITHHELD SEVERAL MONTHS.
Some locals officials allege, have been paying their dues to the Lewis headquarters here, while others have been withholding dues entirely. In some cases the withholding has been of several months' duration. A warning statement was issued by Attorney Joseph Londrigan of the Howay organization, at the time additional contempt charges were filed here Monday, stating that "we have been very patient with these local officers because we realize they were acting upon bad advice given them by the John L. Lewis group. Now that the Court has made a definite finding that their conduct is prohibited by the injunction order, they have no right to do so."

Officers of a number of local unions were made defendants in the original contempt suit in which Lewis and his provisional officers were the chief defendants. However, the suit was dismissed as to the local officers by Fishwick counsel, to save time in completing the taking of evidence. In that suit, prosecution of Lewis and his immediate aids was the main objective.

Officers of two local unions of this city will be named in the charge, unless their dues are paid by Aug. 25, the attorneys report. Ten who will be named are unions at Clisne's Mine B and at the Klondike Mine.

While the Klondike Mine is not at work at present and can therefore pay no dues, Nesbit claims that they have previously withheld payment and attorneys plan to cite them.

At the Mine B union, dues have been withheld the past month and no definite action has been made toward paying them. At a previous meeting members of that union voted against paying them. Officials hope, however, that this local will have its dues in before the deadline time, Aug. 25.

PAPERS ALREADY PREPARED.
Contempt papers for the coming suit have already been prepared by Nesbit's attorneys, and will be filed as soon as possible after the September opening of Circuit Court.

Officers of provisional district 12, the United Mine Workers of America under John L. Lewis, have mailed a letter to all officers of local unions of the State, urging them to take no heed of the continual threats made to them by Nesbit.

"Such letters and telegrams are merely attempts to terrorize and should be disregarded," the letter read. "We do not understand that the injunction to which such letters and telegrams refer is intended to require miners to pay dues to an organization to which they do not choose to belong."

The provisional district officers promise to furnish legal counsel to officers of local unions and members prosecuted under the injunction by the dual organization.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE ENDS

Burson, Piedmont; Dr. I. B. Kruse, Jefferson City; Dr. E. L. Hendricks, Warrensburg; Dr. Eugene Fair, Kirksville; Dr. Joseph A. INDIANAPOLIS BALL PARK FIRE.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 4.—Fire last night destroyed a section of boxes and part of the roof of the grandstand at the Indianapolis (American) Association Baseball Club park here. The damage was not regarded by club officers as sufficient to interfere with the playing of the game scheduled with Kansas City tonight. The fire was discovered during the doubleheader between Indianapolis and Milwaukee.

WOMAN HURT IN LEAP FROM SERVICE CAR

Mrs. Elsie Kirk Became Frightened When Men Spoke of Taking Her for Ride.

Mrs. Elsie Kirk, 30 years old, a widow, 4411 Russell boulevard, was seriously injured last midnight when she became frightened and leaped from a moving service car occupied by five men near Broadway and Ripa avenue, Luxembourg.

The driver then stopped and allowed the injured woman's companion to get out, driving on without offering assistance.

After emergency treatment at Alton Hospital, Elsie Kirk, Mrs. Kirk was taken to city hospital. Physicians said she had suffered fractures of the skull, jaw and both ankles and internal injuries.

The injured woman and her companion, Miss Esther Smith, 18, 3124A Cherokee street, had been dancing at the Liverside Club and waited nearby, at Broadway and Ripa avenue, for a service car to take them to the southern terminus of the Broadway street car line.

They entered the machine, which carried a service car sign, becoming frightened when one of the men told them they were being taken for a ride after they had inquired why the machine turned in a direction away from their destination.

Miss Schmidt told police that she had seen the driver of the machine at the roadhouse and had refused his invitations to dance. Mrs. Kirk was unable to make a statement.

LEGGE URGES FEEDING OF WHEAT TO LIVESTOCK

Declares Shortage of Forage and Surplus of Grain Makes It Advisable.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The use of wheat for livestock feeding was urged today by Chairman Legge of the Farm Board as a means of disposing of the large surplus supply of wheat which has been a depressing influence on the market.

In a radio address prepared for delivery over WLS, the chairman said: "The price of wheat has reached a point where we can and should consider wheat from the standpoint of its value as a feed for livestock."

"The present severe drought has reached a point," he said, "where the shortage of feed and forage threatens serious losses to livestock growers and dairymen over a wide area. The hay crop is the smallest we have had in years. In some sections the corn crop will be reduced to 40 or 50 bushels per acre. Hay stocks are being fed out, and the prospect for sufficient winter supplies of feed is not encouraging. Under these conditions there is danger that farmers will dispose of beef cattle and dairy animals at a sacrifice. If this movement is not headed off it may mean that a large number of animals in poor condition will be forced onto the livestock markets."

The chairman said there was absolutely no relief possible through disposal of the surplus abroad at prices below the domestic level. Many of the most important wheat importing countries now have legislation, he explained, that could be applied to prevent or penalize any such action. He added the only way permanently to improve the wheat price situation was to reduce annual wheat production.

VATICAN CITY VACATIONS

CONCENTRATED IN AUGUST

By the Associated Press.

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 4.—The administrative offices of the Catholic church, which from this little bit of independent territory governs the church throughout the world, are running on a time schedule later this month through August. All Vatican vacations are concentrated, as much as possible, in the month.

The supreme head of the church, Pope Pius XI, is staying in the Vatican, taking daily walks along the shady paths of the Vatican gardens, but practically all his assistants have taken themselves to the Italian seashore, lakes or mountains, or to Switzerland.

The Roman congregations, offices and dicasteries, which constitute the administrative headquarters, have been suspended until September. The audiences granted by the Pope to certain ecclesiastical officials have been suspended, too. The pontiff is limiting himself to general audiences, at which Americans compose a large portion of the attendance.

All the cardinals have left Rome for the vacation. Cardinal Pietro Gasparri, former Papal Secretary of State, is at Montecassino for the summer, and, it is said, to write his memoirs. Cardinal Gasparri is in his native castle of Legnino; Cardinal Corrèti in his villa near Orvieto; Cardinals Sacra and Enrico Gasparri are in the Apennines at Prasso Della Cia, as guests of Marquise Fasoli; Cardinals Mori and Capotosti are in the Marches district, where they have villas. Each cardinal obtained permission from the Pope before leaving Rome.

Flight Death From Ship Crash
PORTSMOUTH, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Katherine M. Moore, 25-year-old wife of Lt. John Marsh, N. R. N., a passenger on the Merchant's & Miners' line steamer Fairfax, which rammed the oil tanker Pitkin off Sultante during a dense fog on June 10, died last night. She was a resident of Norfolk, Va. Her death was the fifth resulting from the collision.

ST. LOUIS DRIVER SLAIN BY MAN ON REAR SEAT, OFFICER SHOT

Slayer and Woman Companion Commander Another Car and Escape.

By the Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 4.—Henry D. Sash was shot to death and Patrolman Robert Koegel seriously wounded Saturday night at a downtown corner by a man accompanied by a woman in Sash's automobile. Both escaped. Sash was driving. He was shot from the rear seat and the policeman was felled when he ran to interfere.

Two small caliber pistols were found in the automobile from which the man and woman fled, commanding another machine about a block away. Sash drove his automobile to the curb and stopped and the shooting started immediately. He was about 30 years old.

The man and woman jumped in a car owned by a suburban grocer, who was questioned by police. They decided he knew nothing of the affair, however.

BURNED TO DEATH IN AUTO

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 4.—William Vanderpool, 55 years old, was burned to death late Saturday when his motor car left the road and turned over into a ditch just south of Poplar Bluff. A young woman, reported to have been Miss Edith Grove of Cape Girardeau, was rescued from the burning car. Vanderpool's body was burned beyond recognition.

BERG IS RATED
6-5 FAVORITE
OVER CHOCOLATE

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Whitechapel whirlwind, Jack (Kid) Berg, battles Kid Chocolate, Cuban featherweight, in a round bout at the Polo Grounds Thursday night in the outstanding contest on the national boxing schedule this week.

Berg, generally regarded as the most formidable of all the challengers to Al Singer's lightweight title, will have nearly 10 pound weight advantage over the sensational Chocolate, who never has been beaten, either as an amateur or a professional. Berg rates at 6 to 5 favorites at present, although the fighters probably will enter the ring at even money.

Baby Joe Gans, Los Angeles Negro welterweight, will meet Eddie Murdock of Tulsa in the 10-round semifinal, and Eddie Mack, Denver lightweight, will take on Sammie Dorfman of the East Side in the opening 10.

The thrice-postponed 10-round bout between Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., Negro, and Tommy Grogan, Omaha lightweight, has been scheduled for the Queenboro Stadium again tomorrow night.

Activity in the Chicago section will center around a clash between Fidel Labarca of Los Angeles and Earl Mastri, Chicago featherweight, at the stadium Thursday night.

Out on the west coast, Maxie Rosenblom of New York, who holds the light-heavyweight championship in the eyes of the New York State Athletic Commission, will face Willard Dix of Bellington, Wash., in a 10-round non-title affair at Oakland, Cal., tonight.

Fighters Finish
Training Today

The fighters who will compete in the five matches on the Walter Hatzfeld American Legion professional boxing card, Wednesday night, will complete their training with workouts today and tomorrow at various local gymnasiums.

Joe Lohman's 10-round battle with Lorenz Angelo, towering California-Italian marks the veteran Toledo heavyweight's second appearance in St. Louis. Lohman is a clever boxer and a hard puncher. He has met most of the leading light-heavyweights and heavyweights in the country, including six former world champions. Angelo, who boasts of 29 knockouts in 51 fights, is 6 feet 2 inches tall and tips the scales to the tune of 202 pounds.

Bert Kinney, willing Honolihy heavyweight, whom Lohman stopped on the last Battling Card, meets Stanley McRee, Luxor, Ark., in another 10-rounder. Kinney gave his best in his battle with Lohman and should cause McRee ample trouble. McRee was holding his own in a recent battle with Frankie Power when the referee stopped the bout because the Arkansas fighter suffered a deep gash above his eye.

BOUND PEASANTS USED AS SHIELD FOR CHINESE REDS

Wounded Officer From Changsha Says Communists Advanced on City Behind Human Screen.

CAPTIVES FIRED ON BY DEFENDING FORCE

Insurgent Activity Is Reported in Kiangsi and Army Is Moving on Kiung From West.

By the Associated Press.
MANCHU, Aug. 4.—How Communists advanced into Changsha behind a human screen to shield themselves from the fire of troops defending the city was related here today by a wounded Colonel of Hunan provincial forces.

The officer, arriving here for hospitalization, said the Reds entered the city behind masses of felled peasants. The peasants' hands were tied behind their backs.

Before realizing the helplessness of the peasants, provincial troops opened fire, the Colonel said, but held their bullets when they saw they were slaughtering defenseless persons in large numbers.

Advancing them without opposition, the Reds easily dispersed the provincial troops, inflicting heavy losses, and began their carnival of murder, robbery and arson.

Meanwhile the evacuation of Kuling, Kiangsi Province resort, was speeded up as the Communist menace persisted there.

United States naval authorities also announced their Yangtze River patrol would be improved to cope with the situation in the valley.

City Shelled by Gunboat.

Changsha was shelled by a Chinese gunboat last night, dispatches said. Communist machine gun crews on the northern outskirts of the city returned the fire until the gunboat was forced to turn back.

Changsha still is in a precarious position. Communists remaining in the city are armed.

The execution of Kuling followed demands by both Chinese and foreign officials at Kukiang. Declaring the resort in imminent danger of Communist incursions, authorities sought to remove foreigners.

However, their efforts were only partly successful. A few foreigners, principally missionaries, remained, considering the situation not sufficiently serious to warrant their departure. Many Americans proceeded to Kukiang, where they took passage to Hankow or Shanghai.

Unconfirmed reports say large bodies of Communists are approaching Kukiang from the west. Other unconfirmed reports say communistic activity in Northern Kiangsi Province is increasing. Many are said to be still in the hands of provincial authorities, but Reds are said to be thousands of Chinese leaving Nanchang and concentrating at Kukiang.

Foreign warships at Kukiang are considered adequate to protect foreign interests there. The Chinese are the American gunboat Lumen, the British gunboat Scarab and two Japanese destroyers.

Admiral Charles McVay, commander in chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, ordered the destroyers Bulmer and Simpson from Tsinfei to Yangtze River ports, where they will assist in protecting American life and property.

The destroyer Edsel, which has been anchored in Shanghai harbor, proceeded upstream today for its announced destination. However, it was known the Edsel departed under emergency orders.

The gunboat Turula, undergoing repairs here, will join the Yangtze patrol Friday. Admiral McVay ordered repairs expedited.

Eight Suspects Beheaded.

Eight suspected Communists were beheaded in the streets here today as military authorities tightened their defenses against the growing menace of red uprising in Hankow.

Additional troops patrolled the city. Everyone was subjected to search. The French community formed a volunteer defense corps. Thousands of terrified Chinese sought the protection of the foreign quarter.

Gunboat Silences Fire of Red Machine Gun.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4.—A Japanese gunboat off Changsha had been fired upon by Communist machine guns. The gunboat returned the silencing the attackers.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.
THIS is the greatest business country in the world. The welfare of our people, especially the wage earners, is entirely dependent on prosperity. Yet we have the peculiar spectacle of business being in chronic fear of the Government. A great apprehension is felt about the action of Congress and more or less about the attitude of the executive and regulatory departments.

This trouble arises because business men do not understand public relations and office holders do not understand economic relations. They do not speak the same language. Many good business men in office do not know how to talk about business. Some men in business and some demagogues in office need to be restrained and controlled. But in general men in business and in public office are trying to be fair.

Now that the people can see more plainly the great services that business renders, furnishing employment to dependent wage earners and supplying the public needs, they ought to make it plain that they are equally opposed to unfair practices in trade and demagogery in office and they ought to insist that co-operation between the Government and legitimate business which will remove fear and distrust and promote good will and prosperity.

MEXICAN CITY TO GIVE MEDAL TO MORROW

Blaze at Flying School at St. Elmo, III., Discovered by Two Students.

VANDALIA, Ill., Aug. 4.—Fire starting at 8:40 o'clock last evening destroyed a large four-airplane, a glider and a large quantity of equipment of the Wright Flying School at St. Elmo also known as the Smith Aviation Field. Damage is estimated at $25,000. Other buildings including a tool shed and student cabins were damaged.

Planes destroyed were two Swallow training planes and a glider belonging to Joe Wright, instructor of the school; a plane belonging to J. Meredith Jones of New York; and a new American Eagle biplane belonging to the Rome Airway Co. of Rome, N. Y. Two planes usually stored in the hangar were damaged.

Plane attendants were out of the hangar for more than an hour when the fire was discovered by two students. One of the training planes stored in the center of the hangar was in flames. They managed to get the new American Eagle to the door but the fire spread so rapidly they were forced to abandon the machine.

Fire departments from St. Elmo and Brownstown were on the scene but were of no help because of the distance of the field from water mains. The hangar, valued at $6000, was insured for $1000, but no insurance was carried on the planes.

Excellor, Mexico City daily, to-day in an editorial praised Morrow and predicted that some day he would be President of the United States. "Not since the days of Ambassador Clayton, I know how live in peace with himself and with us," the paper said. "There has been such a business man who came to Mexico in an atmosphere which many of his countrymen declared irreducibly hostile, within a short time winning the friendship of everyone."

"It is easy to foresee," the paper continued, "that the Republican party will find its strongest candidate in Mr. Morrow when the time comes to seek a successor to Mr. Hoover."

3325 AUTOS OF 9021 TESTED
GET CLUB'S SAFETY O.K.

Only 1244 Passed First Time; Others Accepted After Being Repaired.

Less than a sixth of the automobiles passing through the three free testing lanes conducted for 19 days by the Automobile Club of Missouri were found to be mechanically satisfactory on the first test, executives announced today.

Of 9021 machines inspected only 1244 passed the first test. Of the remainder 1981 were driven through again after being repaired and received an O. K. Some were inspected several times before they were pronounced to be in correct condition for safe driving.

Bad lights were noted on 518 cars, more than half of those tested, while 4149 had defective brakes and 2098 improper wheel alignment. Stop lights were out on 1852 cars.

ON HOMEMADE WATER SKIS

Australians Perform Feat at Bingen on Way to Negotiate English Channel.

BINGEN, Germany, Aug. 4.—The Australians, Prof. Miller and Julius Hirsch, as a prelude to a stroll across the English channel, yesterday walked across the River Rhine from Bingen to Rudesheim on home-made water skis.

On arriving at Rudesheim the men put the collapsible skis in their backpacks and continued their hike on land. At the foot of the national monument they deposited a wreath with the words, "On the first crossing of the Rhine on water skis, from the Austrian aquatic hikers to the liberated Rhine."

MEXICAN PYRAMIDS FOUND
Traces of Several Ancient Races Discovered Near Tampico.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—Edmundo Noguera, archaeologist, arriving here from northern Vera Cruz said traces of several ancient civilizations had been found in a newly discovered archeological zone about 27 miles south of Tampico.

The zone, he said, is rich in pyramids overgrown with vegetation, the structures showing definite signs of Toltec and Mayan civilization. He suggested the possibility that even more ancient races had existed in the same spot.

Now none of the three is required.

ORDER ISSUED TO SCRAP THREE U. S. BATTLESHIPS

Instruction in Accord With London Naval Treaty—
America First to Comply
With the Pact.

ANNUAL SAVING
OF $4,000,000

Wyoming, Utah and Florida to Be Withdrawn From Service — All Now With Atlantic Scouting Fleet.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—First in ratifying the London naval treaty, the United States today stood first also in placing its terms in effect. Three of its 12 battleships have been ordered withdrawn for scrapping this fall.

The Wyoming, Utah and Florida will see the end of their long service before the year is out. The treaty does not require their disposal until much later, but because the international disarmament example involved, the United States will find in the retirement a saving of nearly $4,000,000.

"This economy is the first to be made known by a Government department since President Hoover's recent call for a reduction of expenditures in the Government department which will not lessen efficiency or cause unemployment.

The crew of the three vessels will be distributed through the fleet, while the practice of no ships manned up to full strength.

Treaty provisions require that either the Utah or the Florida be scrapped or sunk within 12 months of the effective date of the pact, and the other within 18 months. The Wyoming may be retained for training purposes.

The treaty's effective date will be the time that ratifications of the United States, Great Britain and Japan are deposited in London. The American ratification now is on its way across, but Japan has yet to act. Its ratification was anticipated, however, in ordering the withdrawal.

All three of the ships are attached to the scouting fleet, based on the Atlantic coast. The Wyoming is the flagship of this unit, and its place will be taken by the Arkansas which, with the Utah and Wyoming, is returning to the United States from the annual cruise to Europe of the Naval Academy midshipmen.

ASSESSMENT LISTS MUST BE PUBLISHED, SAYS RULING
ILLINOIS ATTORNEY-GENERAL STATES

Day Is Enjoined Upon County
Official to Publish Assessment

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 4.—Publication of assessment lists by county supervisors of assessments is mandatory upon all supervisors of the state, Attorney-General Oscar E. Carlstrom has ruled.

Carlstrom made the ruling at the request of State Attorney William Denton of Shawneetown, who informed the Attorney-General that the supervisor of assessments of Gallatin County contemplated omitting the publication of the list of the poor financial condition of the county.

The supervisor of assessments and chairman of the county board pointed to a provision in the State laws that the failure to publish an assessment does not affect the validity of a tax.

"The fact that the statute prohibits a taxpayer from taking advantage of any error or omission of duty on the part of the official whose duty it is to publish the tax list cannot be held to justify such an official in refusing to perform a duty enjoined upon him by the statute," Attorney-General Carlstrom said.

Sir Henry Simon, obstetric specialist, who took up residence in Glamis castle late Saturday. He will be joined tomorrow by Home Secretary J. R. Clynes, who must witness the royal birth, according to English law.

Sir Henry, who for the moment has become one of the most important men in the British Empire, has a room close to that of the patient.

It was in the heavy pile of stones, an oblong cluster of turrets grown into small towers guarding the noble tower in the center, that is, Glamis castle, where Shakespeare's Macbeth reputedly started on his bloody career, indicating that Glamis was a feudal fortress as early as the eleventh century. It has been the lifelong home of the little Duchess whom Queen Mary described as "not one of these modern girls, thank heaven."

King George and Queen Mary today telephoned their greeting to the Duchess over a special wire from the Isle of Wight, where they had gone yachting.

Dr. Schacht Coming to U. S.
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Institute of International Education announced yesterday that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the German Reichsbank, would visit the United States next fall with his wife, son and daughter. He intends to place his son in a Chicago bank to study American financial procedure. Dr. Schacht will speak on international finance before universities and other bodies in the East and Middle West, and visit the Pacific Coast if time allows.

JIG-SAW PUZZLES DIVERT HOOVER AT MOUNTAIN CAMP

This Is His Favorite Evening
Entertainment — All Formality Dispensed With.

By the Associated Press.

ORANGE, Va., Aug. 4.—In his week-end vacations at the mountain retreat near here President Hoover turns to the most simple forms of recreation.

In the daytime there is a rule of "every man for himself" and the guests go and come largely as they please. Hikes, horseback riding and horseriding, pitching, in all of which Mr. Hoover participates at times, are available.

The community hall, a large cottage furnished with chairs and tables of unpainted pine wood, is the spot where all gather at night and there the simple tastes of the President again are evident.

His favorite evening diversion is jig-saw picture puzzles. About 20 different types of these games are piled in one corner of the hall and almost invariably when dinner is over Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and their guests gather about the big table to hunt for pieces to match up the pictures.

Other diversions at the camp include card playing, chess, checkers, pool and throwing darts the length of the room at a target. The President has not joined in the camp games.

Formality is dispensed with and the President and the other men at the camp roam about in clothing intended for comfort.

WESTERN SIGHT-SEEING TRIP

Transcontinental Motor Coach to Be Used on 6,000-Mile Trip

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 4.—The "fancy wagon" which will be used by the University of Missouri for a tour of the West in August will have some things in common with the "prairie schooner" of '49, but in most respects it will be entirely different.

The transcontinental motor coach which will carry the geography party over a 6,000-mile route will have for its goal San Francisco. The trip will take a month. A refrigerator, a phonograph and a trained nurse will be part of the equipment. College credit will be granted the student members of the party. A chaperone has been employed. The tour is a non-profit enterprise sponsored by the university.

Dialogue on Unemployment.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Q. Why are so many workers unemployed?

A. Because they cannot get work.
Q. Why can't they get work?
A. Because they can't find people who will employ them.

Q. Why can't they find people who will employ them?

A. Because so few people are now employing workers.

Q. Why are so few people now employing workers?

A. Because it is not profitable to employ them.

Q. Do you mean that the large number of unemployed workers is due to the profit system?

A. Absolutely. When it is not profitable to employ workers, people will not employ them. Profits come first.

Q. How can this situation be remedied?

A. By doing away with the profit system.

Q. But would not that be communism?

A. No. Communism is not the only system that does away with profit. The Government of the United States is not communistic, yet it operates the postal department on a non-profit making system. Other big businesses can be operated the same way.

Q. Can the profit system be abolished peacefully?

A. Yes, by operation of law whenever the people are willing to do it.

Q. Would the abolition of the profit system do away with unemployment?

A. Yes, for with the profit making removed there would be no incentive to discharge workers or refuse to employ them.

Unequal Ward Population.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

A SHORT time back you asked an editorial urging that our wards be redistricted to compensate for population changes. In that connection it is interesting to consider your subsequent article listing registration figures by wards. Cursory examination shows 17 wards with a registration range between 10,000 and 14,999, seven wards between 15,000 and 19,999, three with between 20,000 and 24,999, and one ward above 25,000.

If, as is probable, this representation is a rough index of the voting population, I submit that this mixup looks like hecous-pocus gerrymandering. Districts are being split up to make votes go as far as possible. I believe we must establish a system that removes the incentive for a process that makes a sham of democratic methods. The remedy is at hand in the Hare system of proportional representation.

Origin of Single Tax Idea.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I RECEIVED a pamphlet from Senator Nye with extracts from "Progress and Poverty" by Henry George, and it reminds me that you printed an editorial entitled "Henry George and Pittsburgh" in your issue of May 29, implying that Mr. George originated the single tax idea. The implication is in the statement that, being dead, he retains a world-wide band of disciples.

But was not the single tax the doctrine of the Physiocrats of France about the middle of the eighteenth century? According to the encyclopedia, the Physiocratic School was in being as early as 1712, and its principles were stated by R. Cantillon in 1755, and the name Physiocrat was given to it by P. S. du Pont de Nemours, who was a member. Their idea was:

The revenue of the state ought to be raised in the most direct and simplest way—namely, by a single impost of the nature of a land tax.

Glad to Work in Any Kind of Weather

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I NOTICE an article commenting on the hot weather and the effect it is having on different things. Street work among others. I, as an employee of street contractors, know that the last few days have been almost unbearably hot, but I also know that there has been so much unemployment that men are glad to try and work under almost any conditions.

I myself, belong to a craft which for this year has enabled me to work 22 days. We just finished a four-weeks' session open to all the different street jobs we were held up for no reason I could see. It may be news to the tax payers in St. Louis to learn that one of those jobs has since started with a gang brought from out of town. Maybe it's all right to try and increase the population here, but is it wise to increase the number of unemployed?

FALLING PRICES.

Retail prices are declining, but they are coming down slowly when compared to the precipitate drop of wholesale commodity price quotations. The Analyst's index of wholesale commodity prices, which stood at 150.1 on July 16, 1929, had dropped to 123 on July 15, 1930, a decline of 27 points, or 15 per cent. The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor, however, in its study of the cost of living in 23 cities, found a reduction of only 2.1 per cent in retail prices between June, 1929, and June, 1930.

The drop was somewhat greater between December, 1929, and June of this year, being reported at 2.8 per cent. During these six months retail food prices fell 6.4 per cent; fuel and light, 3.2 per cent; rent, 1.6 per cent, and clothes and house furnishings, 1 per cent. In either case, there is a striking discrepancy between a reduction of 15 per cent in commodities at wholesale and of only 2 per cent or 3 per cent in prices charged at retail.

It must be remembered, however, that the goods the retailer is offering today at a reduction of 2 per cent or 3 per cent were made from materials which were bought before commodity prices plunged downward. We must recognize, also, that the distributor's costs include many items besides the payment for materials. He has not been able to reduce wages in proportion to the reduction in commodity prices. To do so would limit purchasing power and destroy the market for his goods. Taxes, interest on indebtedness and other items of overhead cost continue much as before. For these reasons, retail price changes always lag behind wholesale prices, whether the market is falling or rising.

In his present capacity, Mr. Cooper has naturally seen a good deal of the Soviet Government. He has seen it doctrinaire, he said, in discussing Russian-American relations at the Williams College Institute the other day, but practical enough to waive its theories when efficiency required. Similar comment might be made on our own Government, apropos the Treasury Department's reversal of its embargo on the importation of Russian pulpwood. The importing companies explained that, unless the embargo were lifted, a number of American paper mills would be forced to close down, with consequent serious unemployment.

The embargo was lifted. We are told by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman, who voided the ban, that this decision will not alter our policy, under the tariff law provisions, of excluding foreign convicted-made products. In this instance, it is explained, the exclusion order was based on "conflicting and inconclusive data." It is a fair inference, however, that the unemployment argument was a persuasive factor. Certainly we cannot afford to aggravate economic distress by stupid devotion to tariff theories or prejudice.

The decision is to be commended. May we hope that the administration is awakening from its paleo-sole protection slumber; that it realizes this is the twentieth century; that if commerce is to be promoted, industry stimulated and employment provided we must have a twentieth century trade policy? Should this prove true a revived public sentiment would doubtless reward the Government at Washington with a "Bravo!" or, better still, an "Atta boy!"

BERMUDA STRIKES BACK.

Hardly had the applause subsided following Roger Q. Williams' recent non-stop flight from New York to Bermuda and return than the flyer learned his pilot's license had been suspended for 90 days. His offense, so the Department of Commerce said, lay in flying over the island without Bermudian official permission. This had aroused the authorities there to indignation complaint.

Such action is not the custom of hospitable Bermuda, and Williams pointed out that other flyers had visited there without being disciplined. What could have riled the island's usually placid temper?

Well, we imagine it has just learned of how the Anglophobes in our Congress have been blackening its good name. Many a time and oft have the schools on Capitol Hill resounded to charges that Bermuda was a sinister spot where "the guns of a foreign Power are aimed at our national defenses." So, casting about for reprisals of a sufficiently small caliber to match the indictment, the Bermudans decided to penalize the first non-tourist aviator who came along.

But why, one asks, has our own Department of Commerce handed Pilot Williams this big Bermuda onion? And that is a problem of which no man knoweth the answer.

HEAT AND DROUGHT.

An unspectacular catastrophe—so might the present drought and excessive heat be appropriately described. Already 133 deaths have been recorded as its result in St. Louis, a total far greater than the 70-odd fatalities of the 1927 tornado, but lacking their dramatic violence. Between 25 and 75 per cent of the Missouri corn crop has been burned up, the United States Weather Bureau estimates. This is a monetary loss of $30,000,000 to $120,000,000 in this State alone, a figure much larger than the $25,000,000 property toll of the St. Louis storm.

Throughout the Mississippi Valley it has been a season of superlatives. St. Louis has had its hottest day of all recorded time; last month was the driest July in its history; the Mississippi River saw its mid-summer lowest in 70 years. Illinois July rainfall was 30 per cent of normal; the month in Arkansas was the driest ever chronicled, and other states report similar discouraging statistics.

From day to day the elements take their toll of natural resources with a gradnifl devastation deadly as that of a sudden cataclysm, but no relief agencies send succor into the wasted region at such a time. The farmer, chief direct sufferer in time of drought, can do little more than stand by and watch his fields shrivel from promising greenness to seared, scorched strands of vegetation, while burning sun and brassy sky give no promise of relief. Such unpredictable and unconquerable seasons of drought in ordinarily well watered regions are among the reasons that farming is one of man's greatest gambles. The farmer stakes his capital, his labor and his prospects against Dame Nature's vagaries, and this year he is the loser.

First thing you know the Republicans will be saying that Hoover has been a Democrat all along.

QUEEN MARY AND THE W.C.T.U.

So agitated have the ladies of the Rockford (Ill.) W.C.T.U. become over reports that Queen Mary smokes cigarettes that they have cabled her for the truth. That is a sure way of courting trouble. Better to leave the subject of fierce academic discussion, permitting to stand the verdict of "not proved." For the Queen may not only confess addiction to the habit, but glory in her vice. Assuming her questioners really want to know, she may reply, "Yes, I smoke a pack a day and I also drink very strong tea." That would be a tremendous setback to the anti-tobacco movement. Henceforth, women whose lips had never known rice paper could admit to the habit, palliating their action by saying, "What's good enough for Queen Mary is good enough for me." Who knows but what defections might appear in the very ranks of Frances Willard's stalwart organization?

A modern swimming pool is a fitting memorial, we suppose, and we aren't the ones to say a word against the good intentions of those who built it, but then we couldn't help wondering how Riley would feel if he could go back again. So we revisited "The Old Swimmers' Hole" and are pretty sure we know. With eyes filled with tears, like the dapping rain, he would look beyond the concrete pool to the tree-

CHICAGO'S SOCIAL STRUCTURE.

26 Years of Giving Pure Milk to the Poor

St. Louis Pure Milk Commission founded in 1904, when Nathan Strauss donated plant for sterilization; nearly 9,000,000 bottles distributed to poor since then; fall of more than 50 per cent in infant mortality here since 1906 partly credited to this work; first welfare station in U. S. opened as offshoot of organization.

Irene Wollman, Assistant Secretary of St. Louis Pure Milk Commission, in Journal of the Missouri State Medical Association.

THE inception of the work of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission dates from the spring of 1908, when Nathan Bernays, at that time City Chemist of St. Louis, paid a visit to Nathan Straus, of New York, who had for many years been furnishing modified milk to the poor of that city. Mr. Bernays learned that Mr. Straus was willing to furnish the equipment for the establishment of a milk laboratory in St. Louis, provided the necessary support were given by the philanthropic citizens of the city.

A committee of 27, representing the leading departments of philanthropic effort of the city, filed the papers for the incorporation of the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission on Feb. 26, 1904, for the following purposes: To accept of Mr. Straus the necessary machinery and apparatus, gratuitously offered by him, for proper installation of a plant for sterilizing and modifying milk, and the products thereof, which were intended especially for infants, might be sold at cost or donated to the mothers of the city. The immediate needs of these babies thus constituted an emergency which could best be met by the system of modified milk distribution available at that time in St. Louis. It was understood, of course, that home modification would replace laboratory modification just as soon as, in the opinion of the clinic nurse, the mother had learned how to sterilize and measure the milk and do it in a cleanly manner.

The St. Louis Pure Milk Commission was supported by direct contributions from the general public, by special contributions from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Free Milk and Ice Fund and by an endowment from the Eliza McMillan estate. In 1923 the commission was invited to become a member of the St. Louis Community Fund and until 1930 received support in part from that organization.

The laboratory was opened and fully equipped at a cost of $245,549, in a building tendered by the Provident Association. It was formally dedicated on June 22, 1904.

At this laboratory, at 1126 North Thirteenth street, milk modifications were prepared and bottled in individual feeding bottles ready for use in the home. They were distributed to pure milk stations in the various congested districts of the city, and were delivered to those who applied for them with a prescription from a physician indicating the modification needed for the particular child.

Beginning with June 1, 1920, the distribution of milk for infant feeding was taken over as a part of the general relief of the family by the following case-investigating agencies: St. Louis Provident Association, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Jewish Community Center and the Salvation Army.

During its 26 years of service to this community, the St. Louis Pure Milk Commission has had but three presidents: Dr. Albert Merrill, whose kindly vision, we are told, did much to make the work successful. Before actual distribution, a list of publications is sent to the constituent. He is asked to read this list over, select those in which he is interested, and mail it back.

Last year, as a result of circulating over 6,000,000 copies of these lists, more than 7,000,000 farmers' bulletins were distributed by members of Congress. This brings the total number of publications distributed by these officials last year to more than 12,000,000.

Of all the publications, probably the most popular are those that relate to beautifying the home and to domestic science.

HERE are heavy runs on such issues as "Lamb on Your Like It," "Eggs & Any Meal," "Ice Cream, Frozen Without Stirring," "Honey and Honey in the Home," and "Beautifying the Farm Homestead."

Often congressional secretaries are compelled to do some shrewd hawking to secure sufficient copies of popular issues such as the above to meet demands of the constituents. It is not uncommon for a secretary to trade the secretary of another congressional office for a like number of "School Lunches" for a like number of "Suits for the Small Boy."

This congressional distribution of farmers' bulletins is in charge of Francis Cleary, a tall, thin, red-faced Irishman at the Department of Agriculture. Cleary has grown up with the department, and his knowledge of Congress and their secretaries regard him as virtually a walking encyclopedia on matters pertaining to agriculture.

DR. KEANE'S lovely old drama, "Romance," has been done into a movie and, with Greta Garbo in Miss Keane's role, the color of New York at the turn of the century ago and the bit of the romance of the story has been lost in the transition but the play, which was a trifle in the middle, is still beautiful and delightful, especially to the modern crop of movie fans who have never heard of Miss Keane. The plot, as old timers will tell, revolves around the violinist of New York of Mme. Rita Cavallini, an opera singer who is the toast of the town—and also the something more than a friend of Cornelline Van Tuyl, a wealthy and kindly man about Manhattan. One of Van Tuyl's best friends is young Tom Armstrong, the vicar of St. Giles. He meets and loves a beautiful visitor and she, who has had men at or even inside her door, finds in him the one great love of her life. She leaves him, though, and 50 years later, Tom, the Bishop Armstrong, tells it while the camera cuts back to the earlier scenes. The picture is well made and Miss Garbo, as the singer, Lewis Stone as the boy friend of the moment and Gavin Gordon as the young minister, are very effective. "Romance" is a film drama well worth seeing.

NEWSBOYS' HARMONICA BAND AT THE ST. LOUIS THEATER

Frank Gaby Is Comedian and Ventriloquist; Screen Feature Is "Hell's Island." While there is undeniably a lot of talent on the new bill at the St. Louis Theater this week, and on paper the program would seem to be as good as any other, the general effect is considerably less inspiring; in fact, except in one or two spots, it is a slow show.

The best bits are those of Frank Gaby, rapid-fire comedian and ventriloquist, who pleased the customers very much yesterday afternoon, and Charles Bennington's Newsboys' Harmonica Band, a first-rate, noisy feature, featuring a peg-legged tap dancer Lyleli and Fante are amusing, too. Kitty Dener does her usual routine of songs and dances in male attire, and the De Frugodan, adagio dancers, hold no 1 spot, after a fashion.

The motion picture, "Hell's Island" with Ralph Graves and J. H. Holt, was not nearly as impressive as it had been more carefully made. It is a French Foreign Legion drama of two American buddies, Mac and Griff, who love the same pure little flower from a Sidi Bel Abbess dive. It is marred in great part by some obviously faked settings.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Richard Sutro, of the banking house of Sutro Brothers & Co., and a director of many corporations, died yesterday at his home in Fort Chester, N. Y. He was 66 years old.

He retired as senior partner of the banking firm July 1 after 33 years to become a special partner. ## THE STUDENT PRINCE WILL OPEN TONIGHT

Romberg Operetta Tenth Presentation of Season at Municipal Theater.

"The Student Prince," the only musical play in this summer's Municipal Opera repertory that has been produced previously at the open-air theater in Forest Park, will be offered again tonight as the tenth presentation of the current season. The Sigmund Romberg operetta was seen at the Municipal Theater in 1928 and 1929.

This week's production is under supervision of Milton J. Shubert, who was associated with J. C. Huffman in fashioning the original production in New York. Shubert was assisted in his local task by Edward Scanlan, who staged two productions in London, and by William Howard, who supervised the musical end of seven road companies.

The casting returns Leonard Clegg to the role of Prince Carl, while he played in New York and on tour. His opposite "win" is Maria Linds in the role of Kathie, a part she had in the New York production. Others in the cast include Margaret Carlisle, Charles Purcell, Hal Forde, Jack Sheehan and Doris Paiston.

Following "Student Prince," only one more attraction remains on the Municipal Opera schedule for 1930—Ziegfeld's "Show Boat," opening next Monday night and continuing for two weeks. Of interest in connection with "Show Boat" is the association's announcement of the engagement of W. C. Fields, said to be the world's highest salaried comedian, for the role of Captain Clegg.

The cast will also include George Roberson, Margot Candise in her original role of Julie; Eva Pucci and Sammy White of the original Ziegfeld cast; Charlotte Lansing, prima donna of "Blossom Time"; Maude Ream Stover, who played Parthy Ann in "Show Boat" for a while in New York; Leonard Ceely, other Municipal Opera favorites, and imported players to fill out the 27 speaking parts. The chorus will be greatly augmented and will feature the Jubilee Singers from Fisk University.

Seats for both weeks of "Show Boat" are now on sale at the downtown ticket office in the lobby of the Arcade Building.

Pulitzer Poetry Winner Thinks England Has More Inspiration.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—England offers more "inspiration and background" for the writing of poetry, and so Conrad Aiken of Cambridge, winner of the 1920 Pulitzer prize for the best American verse of the year, sailed last night on the Anchor liner California for Sussex, "probably for good."

"England always has been a chosen spot for me; I find the atmosphere and surroundings better fitted for my work, more inspiration, if you know what I mean," he declared. "I have said before that I was leaving this country for good, but this time I think I mean it." After a tramp through the Highlands with his wife, he will settle down in Sussex to put the finishing touches on his latest book of poems. "These poems are largely inspired by American contacts, and, in fact, I expect that many of my future poems will have American antecedents," he said. "My residence in England is purely for psychological reasons."

Day by Day in Europe

By O. O. McIntyre.

W
E spent the night at Weimar, the ultra highbrow city of Germany, and motored to Leipzig in the sunrise. Weimar is saturated with culture, ancient and modern. Grand opera, art exhibits, philosophical lectures, etc., are on the boards nightly. The waiter at breakfast talked of Friedrich Nietzsche, a local boy.

It is the home, too, of Franz Liszt, Johann Schiller, Charlotte Stein and Goethe, who was associated with its intellectual splendor.

We visited the Liszt and Schiller homes, gazed at death beds, tarnished murals, velvetine coats and quill pens and while it is not my kind of sightseeing I have to revere to.

The drive to Leipzig was through another stretch of beautiful farmlands with red poppies and blue wild flowers sprinkled through shimmering waves of wheat. Germany's outlands bespeak plenty. It is difficult to believe a few years ago its agrarian outlook was as black as its bread.

Women with capacious baskets strapped to backs trudged the roadside to little market places, leaning on canes. Farm wagons have double shafts but only one horse attached to the left side. It gives every wagon appearance of being out of plumb. Rural Germans nods pleasantly to strangers.

Jumbled impressions entering Leipzig are of strolling students reading books, glass phone booths in public squares, a blind man puffing a fat cigar and a beribboned dog on three legs, the fourth amputated.

Leipzig boasts $60,000,000 in the economic center of the Middle Ages and has the grandest depot in the world.

It always has a fair—a fair for at the moment. Richard Wagner was born here and Robert Schumann is an illustrious son. The Leipzig Academy of Music and the University of Leipzig you know about. My hotel window at the Astoria looks down upon the biggest esplanade I ever saw—the Blucher platz.

It is lit by five different promenades, four street car tracks and three enormously wide driveways.

There is a noticeable lack of automobiles and electrical advertising signs. The city is formal, culture conscious and homes are aloofly palatial with high iron fences.

Everybody looks painfully studious, forehead are high and all neckties are black.

I AM continuing hotel push but a ton experiments. The one here offered "kellner," "madchen" and "diener." I buzzed the "madchen" one and how's everything with you, Prof. Ziegfeld? The response was so bright, bold and pretty I had to think up something for her to do, so gave her a brand-new handkerchief to press.

A afternoon paper had a brief interview quoting me as being impressed with our fair city" and a half-stick of tourist twaddle. I marked copies to mail several inkstained postcards who cannot read German, with this notation along the side: "All German propaganda. I only crawled under the table when they began shooting."

together represent virtually all of French industry, have issued a warning that persistence in the present American tariff policy will result in the adoption of "measures of protection" in France and in Europe.

The Tariff Committee of the Chamber of Deputies urged the Government to end the "most favored nation" agreement with the United States in the event that the efforts of France to get the American rates lowered should fail. The committee recommended that the French duties on American goods be adapted to the same regime as is imposed on French exports to the United States. This report was received with general approval by the Chamber of Deputies.

Menace to Export Trade.

The president of the French Silk Federation, while urging retaliatory tariffs, proposed general

European action, since any effective measure of resistance would have to be accompanied by measures for intensive agricultural dependence upon American markets. All this indicates how seriously the tariff bill just passed concerns our vast export trade with France. Our exports to France very nearly double her exports to the United States.

The European Customs Union, a group of political and industrial leaders from 13 continental states, met in Paris on June 20 to discuss tariff solidarity. The recent passage of the American tariff law directed the first day's discussion to the necessity of defensive measures.

America is confronted with the danger that the union of these 13 continental states will enact legislation that will prevent the importation of our goods to these countries.

Germany this year has greatly increased her tariff on rye, barley, oats, wheat, flour, potatoes, cattle, pigs, sheep, horses, poultry and other articles of export. In addition, the German Minister of Economy has announced that Germany will abandon her most favored nation treatment of the United States unless the American commercial treaty expires in 1935.

"Portugal, Finland, Greece,

Spain, the Danish Government, the Union of South Africa, Honduras, Cuba, Peru, Mexico and Australia have boosted their tariffs in reprisal.

Retaliatory by Canada.

"Canada, one of our best customers, promptly retaliated by the imposition of increased rates upon imports from the United States. The Conservative party in Canada, a few days ago, obtained control of the Government, driving from power the Liberal party which had controlled them for nine years. The Liberal party favored reasonable trade relations with the United States. The Conservative party favors high tariff rates. The prospects for favorable trade relations with Canada are jeopardized by this election, and no one can foretell its effect upon the commerce and industry of the United States.

"Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the former Premier of England, stated in a speech that there is no sign of any European country reducing its tariff.

The Minister of Finance of Argentina has appointed a Committee of Customs Appraisers to draw up a new tariff, recently having enacted an order which severely affects the importation of American apples. Argentina ranks sixth in the purchase of goods from the United States.

"Even Great Britain, so long a representative of free trade, has caught the general contagion of retaliation and recently issued an order prohibiting the importation of American apples to England, Scotland, Wales and North Ireland.

"All this retaliatory legislation has occurred within this year and is but the beginning of greater and more hostile acts in the future."

"What do you give your family for dessert?" was a question asked of a busy camp cook. She replied, "Ooh! I go the rounds of rice puddings, custard, gelatine, and junket and in between times serve caned peaches."

There are lots of "in between" times in every home and the canned peach suggestion is a good one because there are so many ways of using this delicious fruit.

The most obvious is to chill the fruit thoroughly and open it just before serving. Lukewarm fruit is not appetizing but too many people forget this and take the fruit direct from the shelf in a warm kitchen.

MOST COOKS BOIL CABBAGE TOO LONG

Too Much Cooking Spoils the Taste and Appearance of the Vegetable.

The average housewife concentrates on serving only one kind of cabbage, the plain, everyday, green cabbage.

There are, however, several other varieties which may be attractively prepared for the table including the varieties enumerated in the following paragraphs.

New cabbage is the first spring crop. It is light green, the leaves do not form so tight and compact a head, but the texture is at its best.

Savoy cabbage is a large flat head of kinky, pale green leaves, and appears towards the end of summer.

Red cabbage is an early fall variety. The head is solid, of a reddish purple and is most commonly served dressed with a sweet and sour sauce.

Chinese cabbage, also known as "pak-choo" and "pe-tsai," is a slender, long bunch of leaves resembling radish, leek and swiss chard. The inner leaves have the celery texture and are sometimes chopped and substituted for it.

If you want tender, luscious cabbage that will be easily digested, cook it as short a time as needed, no more.

Ten minutes for cooking new cabbage is sufficient to make it tender. But even the older varieties should not be cooked longer than 20 minutes.

The overcooking of cabbage spoils its appearance by darkening it and makes it less attractive.

POPULAR CULINARY USES OF LEMONS

Some of the Suggestions May Offer New Ideas to the Home Cook.

Though there are many ways in which lemons may be used to advantage for cooking, some of the more popular and practical general uses are these:

1. Lemonade, and any fruit drink or punch needing an acid tang.

2. Lemon pie—the good, home-made kind that must be made from lemons.

3. Lemon garnish, essential for fish, meat and vegetables and for the juice desired on these foods.

4. Lemon juice in dressings.

5. Fresh lemons in lemon puddings and lemon flavored desserts.

6. Tea—hot or cold—and the choice of "Creams or Lemon?" should be given.

7. Lemon health drinks, such as hot lemonade and unsweetened tasting medicinal draughts that can be made palatable by the addition of lemon.

8. Lemon juice used in the cooking of vegetables—a practice which greatly increases the natural flavor and seasons to a queen's taste.

Summer Luncheon.

Mix one cup each of diced celery, cooked carrots, diced American cheese and one-half green pepper finely chopped with a half cup of cheese mayonnaise. Shred one small head of fresh cabbage, and mix with a fourth cup of cheese salad dressing. Chill both mixtures well before using. Place a generous portion of the cabbage on a salad plate and mound a portion of the mixed vegetables on the shredded cabbage.

CHICKEN IS BASIS FOR A GALA MEAL

A Fowl Always Adds a Festive Air to the Family Dinner Table.

The average American housewife, when she plans a company dinner in spring or summer, generally selects chicken for the main dish as this fowl can be prepared in many tempting ways, any one of which is suitable to serve to the most important guests.

Planked chicken is one of the most savory ways of serving a fowl. A two and one-half pound chicken is a nice size to select. Other ingredients needed are eight mushroom caps, one-fourth cup butter, one-fourth tablespoon of green pepper, and one sprig parsley.

Fresh lemons in lemon puddings and lemon flavored desserts.

Tea—hot or cold—and the choice of "Creams or Lemon?" should be given.

Cream the butter and the pepper, parsley, onion and lemon juice.

Prepare the chicken as for broiling, place in a dripping pan, season with salt and pepper, dot with butter and bake in a hot oven till nearly cooked.

Butter the plank, arrange a border of potatoes close to the edge and lay the chicken in the middle. Have the mushroom caps peeled and sauted, place them on the chicken, spread the prepared butter over all and put in a very hot oven to brown the potatoes and tenderize the chicken. Serve on the plank.

Duchess potatoes are hot boiled ones sliced, seasoned with butter, salt and pepper and beaten up with egg yolks which makes it possible to shape them as desired.

Baked Fricassee Chicken.

Another popular way of cooking chicken is to fricassee it. A large fowl is best. Additional products needed are two stalks celery, minced fine, one egg, four tablespoons butter, one cup cracker meal or stale bread crumbs, rolled fine, two and one-half cups milk, one tablespoon green pepper, minced, three sprigs parsley, minced, one bay leaf, one-half cup flour, one and one-half teaspoons salt and one-half teaspoon pepper.

ROASTED CORN ON THE COB

Several Ways of Preparing This American Delicacy.

To cook corn picnic fashion, broil on a grate over red coals and turn frequently until delicately browned and hot throughout.

It may be cooked the same way in the broiler of your kitchen stove, but will lack the "woody" odor that gives the flavor of outdoor cooking.

Another way of cooking corn out-of-doors is also possible at home if roasting it in the husk. This is very common where one can freshly gather the ears just before cooking. Good ears "right unshucked," for the husks must remain unbroken until after the roasting.

POLYGAMOUS NOMADS IN NAYARIT, MEXICO

Archologist Tells of Life Among Sun-Worshipping Huichole Indians.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—After living for months among the nomadic Huichole Indians, in the State of Nayarit, Portrío Aguirre of the archaeological section of the National Museum, has returned with an account of the strange customs of these sun-worshipping, polygamous wanderers.

For centuries the Huicholes have lived undisturbed in the wild interior of Nayarit, constantly moving about to escape death, which they fear more than does any other tribe or people in Mexico. When one of their number dies, they abandon their crops and flee to some other place, thinking thus to evade a repetition of the event.

Aguirre, who found the Huicholes a hospitable people, said that while they worship some of the Christian saints they looked to the sun as their god and prayed to it.

When a Huichole brave has proved himself capable of tilling a parcel of land, he is permitted to wed. He may have as many wives as he can support, the average number being four.

The husband goes out of his way to respect and treat his wives well, Aguirre explained. At meal times his wives sit on their haunches in a circle about him, offering tortillas and chile. To avoid hurting the feelings of any one, the brave eats an equal amount of the food offered by each.

There are times, Aguirre said, when a husband wishes to dispose of one of his wives. In such cases, he talks to her kindly, explaining that he no longer wishes her in his entourage than goes out to find a new home for her.

With another brave who is willing to add her to his household, he offers her in trade, accepting usually a horse, an ox or a burro, according to the value he attaches to her.

The Huicholes live in caves and are a happy people, apart from their fear of death.

If you don't want to be bothered about gasoline

Choose Mobilgas ETHYL

Just as millions of motorists have solved the problem of motor oil by selecting MOBIL OIL for life, so millions are now settling the question of gasoline once for all by using only MOBILGAS ETHYL—the one Ethyl gasoline made to the rigid requirements of the Mobile Oil Board of Engineers

Do you want the truth about gasoline? Here it is: There may be several safe gasolines sold within easy driving distance of your home. Any one of them will run your car without undue trouble. Yet actually these same gasolines differ widely in quality. At one station you may get a very ordinary product—and at the next a superb value at no higher price!

The Gasoline with a Pedigree

How can you tell about gasoline values? We believe there is a way that will settle the matter definitely in your mind.

Different men using the same materials will produce different results—because their skill and experience and knowledge differ!

So, unless you are a petroleum expert, why try to select a gasoline? Why not select the gasoline maker in whom you can have the most confidence?

For more than a quarter of a century, the world's most successful motor oil has been Mobil Oil.

Since the beginning of the automobile industry, each improvement in motors has been accompanied by a corresponding refinement in Mobil Oil. So that, at every stage of motor progress, it has been Mobil Oil that was most exactly suited to the requirements of the day.

Through this long experience, the makers of Mobil Oil have built up a unique knowledge of motor requirements. Now they have written the specifications for Mobilgas Ethyl in order to provide a gasoline that would be a fit power-mate for Mobil Oil. And we believe you will agree that no gasoline could have higher authority than that.

Mobilgas Ethyl is more than just an anti-knock gasoline. It is a power-packed dry fuel so full of vitality that you get an instant start, and a prompt surge of power and speed whenever you want it. Complete vaporization and the full benefit of your high compression.

A Trial Will Make a Convert of You

A trial will convince you that Mobilgas Ethyl is the one gasoline that operates your car most successfully. Even if you have not been using Ethyl gasoline, you will be won by Mobilgas Ethyl.

The ability of your car to start, to accelerate and to carry on at sustained speeds will be governed—not by the limitations of the gasoline—but only by the qualities which the maker built into his car!

The premium performance of your car with Mobilgas Ethyl would justify you in paying a premium price for your gasoline. But, happily, Mobilgas Ethyl actually in the long run costs less. The savings in oil and repairs will far more than repay the difference!

Use Mobilgas Ethyl and dismiss another motoring care from your mind. Lubrite Refining Corporation, St. Louis

TELL IT —To— SALLY

Tom Believes That Life Is a Flop Because He's Had Some Bad Breaks.

By SALLY MARTIN

DISCOURAGED? Disgusted? Got yourself doped out as a total flop? Sure that life has you licked; even before you start? Yes? Then you'll sympathize with Tom. For Tom is certainly sunk. Yet, according to his own report, he is the first citizen a man could ask—his sweetheart's love and trust. But he's so bent on wallowing in gloom that he doesn't even think he should accept that.

Read it yourself. Maybe you'll recognize some of the symptoms.

"Dear Miss Martin:

"It is a deeply puzzled and dreadfully discouraged fellow, who is writing this letter—one who is going about crazy worrying over bad luck.

"A fate would have it, I had a little argument where I worked, and lost my job. I'd been employed there three years, and I felt terribly blue about losing out. I was out of work for a month, and being unable to get a position like my former one—a white collar job—I went to work for a wholesale house at $30 a week, but doing altogether different kind of work from what I used to do.

"We were planning to get married this August, and my fiancee had expressed her willingness to cooperate with me to the extent of working for a year or so until we got going good, although we do have a small savings account.

Can a couple take a chance like that, do you think? I was all for it as long as I had my other job, but now I feel terribly discouraged, and I wonder if it is wise when I feel such a lack of confidence in myself. More than once I have told my sweetheart that it is best to part, because I feel that someone else can give her more. I am, and always have been, very sincere in saying this. Her reply is always the same... just tears.

"We love each other greatly. But I fear for the future. I've tried to discourage her faith in me, but God knows I do this against my will, as I love her with all my heart and soul, but the thought that she loves me as much makes the situation still worse."

"How can I make her understand how 'I feel'? How the thought of the future has me as blue? Am I doing right by her, do you think? Please help me. Perhaps if you'll answer this, she may see what you say, whatever it is, and understand what a wretched state I'm in. I am afraid of hurting her, however. I do. And I don't want to do that. She's a great kid. What shall I do? I'm so discouraged."

"TOM."

What'll you do? Well, just off hand, I'd suggest taking a good, long, mean look at yourself. Here you are, sobbing around, wringing a fine little kid's heart and acting in general for a dose of hives—for what? Because you lost your job. Suppose you did. What do you do? If what you'll have the makin's within you, then you're all set. What's the loss? You're far too young yet to take root in any one job. And if something hadn't jarred you out of your rut, you would probably have stuck for life, and been an old man, years before your time. As things now stand, you're exactly where any youngster with a spark of gumption ought to be—out in the firing line, hopping lively and moving fast.

Comfort in Hosiery

WHEN your feet hurt so dreadfully it may not be the fault of your shoes at all. How about your stockings? Make sure they fit your feet easily if you want foot comfort. If they are too large they will form tiny folds which will cause pain to the foot and a tight stocking can make life very uncomfortable to the wearer.

Perhaps you are one of the persons who cannot wear silk stockings. Then why wear them? Foot comfort, not fashion, should be considered in the selection of the stocking and if a little thread or a light cotton gives you greater comfort, it is the way to wear these.

The new stockings are cool and these, as well as the cottons, are quite popular for summer sports wear. So there will be no difficulty in making selections.

Footwear Cracking

Rinse cold water over the eggs before dropping them into the saucepan for boiling purposes. This will greatly prevent their cracking.

BROADWAY —

As It Is, Was and Will Be
By GEORGE M. COHAN

Weber and Fields, one of the most famous comedy teams in the history of the theater.

CHAPTER 7.

"WE heard of the Four Cohans," declared L. C. Behman, as I sat in his private office. "But never until today did I know that it was Jerry Cohen and his family that made up the quartet. I recognized your father the minute he walked on the stage."

He said he remembered him from "The Molly Maguires," before I was born. "He was my favorite actor," he added.

I made a mental note to tell Dad this.

"Tell your father his family made the biggest hit this afternoon of any act we've played in a long time," he complimented. "If agreeable, I'll bring you back within three weeks and give you headlining position. What do you say to that?"

I couldn't speak; a lump in my throat prevented issuing an expression of gratitude. I could feel my eyes filling with tears. I tried my hardest to appear unmoved by these sudden favorable turns, but I knew I didn't feel him. To relieve the tension he asked, friendly said an admirer. "Written song hits, sketch hits and now he's the greatest eccentric dancer."

"Look at what he's achieved."

Next came Weber & Fields. Despite all sorts of glowing salaries we thought it best for our general advancement to sign up with the "Vesta Tilley All-Star Vaudeville Company." Lew and Joe's show. I wanted to have the Four Cohans appear before the high class audiences I knew Vesta Tilley would draw, my principal argument to get the family to agree to the tour.

"Thanks," was all I could say. I wanted to hug him; he was more like my father than any man I had met in the show business.

James Hyde, Mr. Behman's partner, conducted a traveling troupe known as "Hyde's Comptet," having Gus Edwards as the boy soprano (he was 10 years old) and Thorne & Carlton. Our stay with "Hyde's Comptet" was 25 weeks after which we went to California, dividing our engagements on the only two Orpheum houses then in existence, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

At that time a ragtime march number of mine was published on a song called "The Warmest Boy in the Bunch." Also, several of my sketches seemed good enough for our act and, finally, I prevailed upon my father to let us use them. There were "The Professor's Wife" and "Money to Burn," the first of which we performed in Los Angeles to a pleased audience. The other sketch came later during that California visit.

Upon returning to New York we made our bow at Tony Pastor's Theater on Fourteenth street, aggregation I wrote a one-act

Programmed were none other than Williams & Walker, the First Williams who died six years ago after a long identification in musical review: FAVOR & Sinclair, O'Brien & Havel, Clifford & Huth and Wood & Shepard. We were placed at 4:30 for the matinee and it was exactly 5:40, an hour and 10 minutes of "Money to Burn," before we were permitted to leave the stage. After that we were a fixture at Pastor's so far as the management was concerned.

Top, Gus Edwards and below, Vesta Tilley, vaudeville queen of her day.

sketch for the Four Cohans, called "The Governor's Son." We tried it out on our California friends in the summer of 1900, our third jaunt to the West Coast.

The Hyde show was nibbling for us again with the result that I dropped over to see L. C. Behman directly upon our return to New York. I wanted no part of Jim Hyde. This turned things to a point where Lou Behman agreed to organize a show of his own.

That night before the performance I had dinner with dad, mother and Josie—our guests. I ate very little and said very little. My thoughts were all for the play. Then to the theater. The dressing room was filled with well-wishers, but I didn't hear half they said. The curtain soon to rise.

Just before the overture was called I summoned the entire company to the stage. I had a brief message:

"Speed, speed, is all I ask. I want you to laugh and to keep on laughing until the final curtain. Have a good time and enjoy yourselves. Speed, speed! That's all."

The cast of 50 cried, "Yes, sir," in one voice. The drum rolled, the music was on, the play began. I ran to my dressing room.

"The Governor's Son" proved a hit in Hartford. It went across with a bang and a smash, encores omitted, bows forgotten—a race for life, my life. For eight years I had been waiting for this night.

And on Monday, Feb. 25, 1901,

"The Governor's Son" was to have its New York premiere at the Savoy Theater on Thirty-fourth street, west of Broadway, the location I had picked as a boy for my initial Broadway production.

The Sunday advertisements simply said: "The Four Cohans and Fifty Others in 'The Governor's Son'—and the name of the theater. A modest 16-line announcement proclaimed:

Tintex To Give It Color—Whitex To Keep It White!

You can tint any fabric in your wardrobe or household any color with Tintex...

But what about your precious white things that time has turned a horrid yellow?

Whitex for those! Silks or Woolens, Cottons or Linens—Whitex will make them white again—as no ordinary bleaching can, for ordinary bleaching has no effect on silk or wool.

Again in California we offered "Running For Office," bringing us the then top salary of $1000 a week.

I had had an argument with Jim Hyde, as upon our return to Broadway, we landed temporarily with the Harry Williams Vaudeville Company, an opposition organization to Hyde. With this troupe we opened in Chicago in September, 1902, fought about the size of the letters of our name on the printing and saw the posters changed to please us. We were getting on.

The electric signs would come next. While touring with the Williams was set. But upon arriving in New York we discovered the White Rats had called a strike. This organization of actors was banded to oppose a group of managers known as the Vaudeville Managers Protective Association, and as our company was made up of White Rats, we were in for trouble. Even our management had a vaudeville affiliation—it was permitted to ring up the curtain. To add to the mishaps I sprained my ankle in the opening number and had to limp through the performance.

HEALTH

Brief articles prepared by experts for the New York Academy of Medicine.
Edited by Dr. Leo Goldstein.

Lockjaw.

NOWADAYS lockjaw, or tetanus, is a rare disease, except on or about July 4. Then because of dirt contamination of pistol and other wounds, there usually are many deaths from lockjaw.

The disease is due to a germ known as tetanus bacillus. Many grounds caused the Fourth of July fireworks are of the puncture type—that is, they reach fairly deeply into the flesh, but the skin closes over them.

This type of wound favors the development of the tetanus bacillus, for the bacillus thrives when not exposed to the air.

The tetanus bacillus belongs to a small group of micro-organisms which injure man through a specific poison, or toxin, which they produce.

In a sense this poison is like the venom of a snake. It gains entrance into the body, and is spread through the circulation of the blood. It affects certain tissues in the body, mainly the nerve tissues, and when present causes sufficient irritation to produce death.

The tetanus bacillus is common and widespread. It is a soil bacillus found in it that is commonly found in the ground, especially in the vicinity of stables and cowbarns.

In the United States the soil of the Atlantic states is especially contaminated with the germ—the Western states on the other hand are relatively free.

The prevention of tetanus depends first upon the cleanliness of wounds, and second on the prompt administration of tetanus antitoxin.

All puncture wounds and shreds of cloth which have gained entrance should be regarded with suspicion. Antiseptics alone are not to be trusted as a preventive of tetanus. Cleanliness, exposure to air and sun and free bleeding are more dependable.

But, as our war experience demonstrated, the best measure of safety is early administration of tetanus antitoxin.

Common soap rubbed on the edge of that obstinate bureau drawer will probably make it open easily and without noise.

Go on.

"I will not!" declared Dolly with spirit.

"If this is the way you're going to act, I won't say another word."

Did she for ten full minutes.

During those ten minutes they left the taxi cab, scuttled shivering across a span of sidewalk, entered an austere and pompous gray-fronted house, and gained admittance to Jerry's new speak-easy.

The speak-easy was on the second floor. You mounted wide stairs and knocked at a door with a card beside it: "Mr. Joseph R. George."

To your knock George himself responded immediately, but cautiously, opening the door a fraction of an inch. You then said, in the manner of one calling upon a close personal friend, "Hello, there, Joe! How's the boy?" And he, flinging wide the door, replied in the manner of a close personal friend called upon, "Hello, you!" Awfully glad to see you. Come on!"

She counted on her fingers. "In October, January, February, March, April, May, months from now on. Then you'll see it! Strings of across the top of every counter, newsstand, and piles of it on every counter."

"By the way," replied Jel.

"I bought—wait a second."

He rose, and left her.

UNTIL his slim leaping figure and his dark symmetrical hair had vanished into the foyer yonder, Dolly watched him; then there was a new light in her eyes, a soft sweet light that had been missing. She gazed with profound admiration. "I made a ring! Look Jerry."

"Handsome," he approved.

Dolly restored the cigarette and snuggled deep into the velvet embrace of her chair, resumed her narrative. "Well, let's see. After lunch I went down to Stecher's and sat in some hats. Ten dollars for that. And at 2 o'clock I went around to Mr. Elliott's. The coat is nearly done, Jerry. Tomorrow will finish it up, he thinks. Oh, and it's gorgeous. Wait till you see it."

WALL STREET STOCKS FAIL TO FOLLOW NEW UP TURN IN GRAINS

Prices Fluctuate Uncertainly, Ending the Day Slightly Lower—Pressure against Some Issues in Last.

S. STEEL MAKES NEW HIGH, REACTS
Warner Bros. Holds Only a Fraction of a 2-Point Rise—Estimate Steel Mill Production Increase—More Gold Sent Out.

Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—After mature consideration, the market was not so sure that an advance in the grain markets, predicted upon serious damage, would be interpreted as a relief, because of the uncertainty, and share prices fluctuated slightly lower.

Although the grain markets continued to advance, reports as to the actual extent of the drought were greatly varied, rains came in areas too long without relief, because of the drought, which was believed to be irreparable. Much of the wheat crop is already harvested. Futures were lifted 2% to 3 cents. After a sag in the morning, corn rallied to close 1% to 2 cents higher.

Though the psychological effect of the grain rally sent stocks briskly yesterday, decided pressure developed against some stocks.

Among the farm implements, International Harvester lost 1 point. Case closed about 1½ points. American Can, one of the leaders of the recent advance, lost 1½ points.

U. S. Steel a Feature.
Warner Bros. rallied under short covering for a time, getting up 2 points. It was later, however, and closed up only a fraction. Rumors that bull forces would drive shorts to cover in madam failed to materialize. Stock rose nearly 3 points, then declined and closed off ¾.

U. S. Steel was pushed up a point to 170 ¼, a new high for the movement, then reacted to close at 169 ¾, a new high for the movement, then reacted to close at 169 ¾. Steel stocks generally failed to respond to an estimate that steel mill operations had increased slightly to 53 per cent of capacity.

Republic and Colorado Fuel each at a point. Youngstown, however, jumped 12 points in a single sale. The market in this issue has been extremely thin. Wall Street attached no importance to the move.

Business News Middly Favorable.
Business news coming to hand was middly favorable. In addition to better tons in the grain markets, nonferrous metals are a little firmer, notably lead. Standard's commodity service, Index, as announced for Aug. 1, showed a decline of only 1 per cent from July 25, but was the lowest since Nov. 1, 1925. Chrysler reported July sales only about 26 per cent below July 1929, relatively the best showing so far this year. Passing the Marion dividend occasioned no surprise. Standard Brands came near to earning its 37 ½ cent quarterly dividend in the second quarter, with net equal to 21 cents a share, increased from 26 cents in the first quarter.

The full effects of the Aug. 1 settlements, delayed a little by the fact that the week-end intervened immediately after the first, resulted in marking up the call loan rate from 2 to 2 ½ per cent, but the long term credit outlook remained favorably as was attested by an easier time in time money.

The Stock Exchange monthly collateral loan statement, showing a decrease of about 1 per cent, was favorable in view of the fact that stocks generally showed a substantial net gain for the month. Gold continued to flow to France, and movement to London appeared to be imminent.

Cotton was depressed by the reports of timely rains in the Western part of the belt, and unlike corn, failed to rally. Futures closed about $1 to $1.50 lower.

Foreign exchanges were again firm, with Sterling rising 1-1/2 to 4-1/2%, only 1/2% of a cent from the point at which some bankers believe gold exports to London would resume.

Stock prices, with other tables and market news, will be found on Pages 3C, 3G and 3D.
